Our town . . . 75 news-filled years

Our town . . . our home community. The Press-Record and the Quad-Cities have been inseparable for 75 years. The history of this newspaper dates from the 20th Century's first decade—the same time period of two of the three acts of Thornton Wilder's memorable 1938 play, "Our Town."

The New England community that was the play's setting also had a twice-a-week paper.

"Growing up, marrying, doctoring, living and dying" . . . all are parts of daily life, of the day to day news. As in the play, they are not merely elements but the very heart of the story. News is primarily people, much more so than it is places or things.

The playwright commented, "You know as well as I do: people are never able to say right out what they think of money, or death, or fame, or marriage. You've got to catch it between the lines. You've got to over-hear it."

True, but the continuing saga of a community—written as it happens, without benefit of historians' knowledge of what the future would bring—tells much about the town's inhabitants and the fabric of their lives.

Mr. Wilder was concerned about history and how accurately it would be preserved. "You know—Babylon once had two million people in it, and all we know about 'em are the names of the kings and some copies of wheat contracts and the sales of slaves. Yet, every night all those families sat down to supper, and the father came home from his work, and the smoke went up the chimney—same as here.

"And even in Greece and Rome, all we know about the real life of the people is what we can piece together out of the joking poems and the comedies they wrote for the theater back then."

So, when the people of "Grover's Corners" decided to seal information into a cornerstone, they tried to convey their real story to later generations. They included a copy of the New York Times, a Bible, the play itself, the U.S. Constitution, Shakespeare's writings—and a copy of their hometown newspaper. The Press-Record is proud to have had the honor of being placed in local cornerstones.

The play concluded that the Earth is "Too wonderful for anybody to realize." But many people do appreciate the Earth and their nation and their town, and strive to make them better. That's been our goal, and that of many thousands of Quad-Citians.

Our town. Our home since 1903. "Nice town, y'know what I mean?"

MEN FROM MARS? Two workers dressed in unusual garb take a short break during sandblasting operations at the new four-level parking garage of St. Elizabeth Hospital being constructed at 21st and Iowa Streets. The two wear the unusual hoods and clothing to protect them from the high velocity sand particles used to "blast" rust from steel beams and guard rails of the garage structure before painting is started. The sand is forced through a hose similar to a fire hose with compressed air. (Photo: Record Photo)

P-R to expand

Dirt has been excavated. Concrete is being poured. An expansion and construction program has begun at the Press-Record and is scheduled for completion this fall, in the newspaper's 75th anniversary year.

The Press-Record's 32-page letterpress will be removed following installation of 56-page offset production facilities in this newspaper's building in the 1800 block of Delmar Avenue. The 50-year-old structure was expanded previously in 1958 and 1961.

Announcement of the expansion is being made in connection with observance of the Press-Record's 75th anniversary. Publication began in the spring of 1903 and has been on a twice-a-week basis since 1908. A special section of today's issue presents a history of the Press-Record, gives a sampling of the kinds of news events that have been covered during the first 75 years of the newspaper's history, and shows the trends in pressroom technology over the years.

Features of the new press, in addition to the higher speed and the larger capacity, will include run-off-the-press color capability and brilliant, fine-screen reproduction of pictorial, news and advertising pages. Press-Record General Manager Paul G. Halbert announced today.

"In connection with our anniversary year of 1978, we are installing a large, top-of-the-line offset press to provide readers and advertisers with the best and most up-to-date kind of newspaper, available anywhere," he commented.

A board group led by Michaeloff voted June 5 to Saturday afternoon (May 12). The organization that preceded the Steel Workers Organizing Committee and the United Steelworkers of America had come to Granite City to hold its annual national convention. An article said, "What will probably be the largest turnout over of union men in Granite City will be witnessed Saturday afternoon, when the members of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers and the members of other labor organizations of this vicinity line up for a parade in honor of the national convention of the Amalgamated Association being held in this city."

"Joseph H. Bishop, who was the first president of the Association, will be the grand marshal."

"The members of the Tri-City Central Trades Council, the national officers and delegates, the members of Tin, Steel, Iron and Granite Ware Workers, Local Granite City Lodge No. 11 and Madison Lodge No. 1 will form the first division."

"It will be headed by the Granite City band."

"The second division will be made up of a band, the members of TSI & GW Workers Local 1096, Good Friday Lodge No. 8, Palace Lodge No. 30, Industrial Lodge No. 26, Granite City Lodge No. 16 and Mississippi Valley Lodge No. 17."

World War I drew to a close and the "roaring 20's" began, bringing bootlegging and the Charleston. On Friday, Sept. 30, 1927, a banner headline announced, "Cyclone rips district."

It was noted that on the previous afternoon, Sept. 29, "sweeping through the Tri-Cities at a velocity of 90 miles per hour, the most disastrous tornado in this section since 1896 demanded a toll of eight lives and injured 50 persons."

"The twister broke up the river after it had bared north and south St. Louis of nearly 100 lives, with hundreds of injured people, many of whom are not expected to live."

Crackdown on parents not paying

Department of Public Aid officials announced today that a special Bureau of Child Support task force will be sent to Madison County beginning this week to help local staffs take action against parents who neglect to support their children.

Family support specialists will be interviewing recipients of the Aid to Families with Dependent Children program in the county to gather information about absent parents.

"Madison County has been chosen because of the number of support enforcement cases backlogged and because of the favorable employment climate locally," a spokesman said. "Recipients in local public aid offices will be interviewed to determine the identity of the absent parents and their relationships to the children in the grant."

Murder probed

Madison County sheriff's deputies were attempting today to identify the body of a man bearing three bullet wounds and partly burned that was found by a farmer near Mitchell Sunday morning.

Authorities said the man, who was black, had been shot once in the head and twice in the stomach. The body apparently had been doused with a flammable liquid and ignited. Deputies said about 25 percent of the body was burned.

A farmer who was beginning to plow his field found the body at 9:05 a.m. Sunday about two miles north of Interstate 270 and Old Alton Road near Mitchell.

Long fall may be hoax

St. Louis police said this morning that they believe a report of a 17-year-old Jennings, Mo., youth falling from one of the Chain of Rocks Bridges last night is unsubstantiated and was a practical joke.

Officers who handled the report could not be located this morning and official sources said only that they had been told to cancel news release on the incident.

One police spokesman said he was told there was nothing to the incident, but did not know whether the youth had actually jumped from the bridge.

An initial press release indicated the youth fell 80 to 100 feet into the river but survived.

Seek suspect in motel fire

Police are seeking a youth between 18 and 20 years old for questioning as an arson suspect in a fire that caused an estimated $12,000 damages at the Travelodge Motel, 1200 Nineteenth St., late Friday night.

Fire, which apparently started in a mattress in a storage room on the top floor of the motel, caused damage to guest rooms on both sides of the storage area and destroyed an ice-making machine, supplies and linens.

"The fire broke out at a late hour, and the fire broke out, they saw a young man on the balcony near where the fire started, and that he was laughing. Police said as they were arriving, a green car sped from the alley behind the motel. The young man was described as about five feet, nine inches tall, weighing about 160 pounds and 18 to 20 years of age."

Police questioned three persons who were in the motel before the fire broke out, they saw a young man on the balcony near where the fire started, and that he was laughing. Police said as they were arriving, a green car sped

SMOLDERING COUCH is removed from the mobile home of Mr. and Mrs. Rick Youngberg, 2912 Myrtle Ave., by Granite City firemen answering a call Thursday. Damage to the mobile home was estimated by the fire department at $3,500 and to the contents at $2,000.

Mrs. Youngberg was at home when the fire started apparently due to a faulty water heater in the kitchen area. She escaped injury. The fire destroyed the interior of the home. (Photo: Record Photo)

7,500 issues—big news and small

(Related information is in a special section of today's Press-Record.)

Newspaper—printed matter that presents occurrences and trends, along with word of advertised products and services.

News—the hallmark of the Granite City Press-Record since it and its predecessors began their existence.

The very first edition of the Granite City Press-Record was published on April 22, 1903—typically was packed full of newsworthy happenings. The lead article of Volume 1, Number 1, told of the election of a new mayor, John Edwards, victor over August Miller and 1893 Mayor Julius Rosenberg.

That happy event for the Edwards family was destined to change to tragedy before many weeks had passed.

Trying to help his constituents cope with the major flood of June 1903, the mayor, a native of Wales, lost his life. Alderman Alvin Morfield became acting mayor and then John B. Judd was chosen for the remainder of the 1903-04 term.

By June 24, 1903, the Press had resumed publication after an interruption caused by the Mississippi River flood.

The issue related, "The death of Mayor John Edwards, who was fatally burned by an explosion at the pump house, occurred at his home on D Street (Delmar Avenue) Thursday, June 11, 1903."

"When the river reaches a certain stage, the sewage of Granite City has to be pumped over the levee."

"At 2 o'clock on the morning of June 2, Mayor Edwards was notified that the water had reached the high water mark."

"Accompanied by Superintendent of Streets Beatty and Al Froender, the plumber, he hurried to the pump house."

"The machinery is powered by a gasoline engine. When Mayor Edwards descended into the pit with a lighted lantern, a terrific explosion immediately took place, the pit being filled with inflammable vapor caused by a leak in the tanks of which the Mayor knew nothing when he descended with the light."

"Mayor Edwards climbed to the top of the ladder and was dragged from the pump house by his trunks, who snatched the flames from his clothes."

"He was taken to his home, where Dr. R. E. Niedringhaus and Dr. L. Schriebls were immediately summoned."

"With the gradual fall of the river, the waters are receding in the Tri-Cities and work is being resumed throughout the entire section."

"In some areas, it is necessary to cut the levees and railroad tracks to run off the water standing in the low parts of the cities."

"The dike which protects the Merchants Bridge approach was cut Saturday to drain the water from West Granite."

"Supt. of Streets Beatty and his force have been busy mending the sewers. As a consequence, the area is practically free from water now."

"The refugees are returning to their homes as fast as possible, and those who were stationed in box cars on the Wabash tracks have removed their effects into tents and in the old wire mills until their homes are ready."

Catastrophes, of course, had to be reported but there were countless happier news articles as the years went by.

Effective in 1912, the newspaper was known as the Press-Record following a merger between the Press and Herald and the Record.

A few years later, Old English type was adopted as a feature of the Press-Record's nameplate. To help trace the 75-year span in which this newspaper has covered the news of the area extending from Venice and Madison through Granite City to Ponton Beach and Mitchell—the Townships of Venice, Granite City, Nameoki and Chouteau—eight front pages have been chosen.

Appearing in today's special section commemorating the Press-Record's 75th anniversary, these eight editions starting with the June 24, 1903 flood report, give some idea of the changing news and equally changing community.

On May 11, 1917, a headline proclaimed, "Amalgamated Association to have big parade

LEADERSHIP SEMINAR sponsored by Rotary Clubs in District 646 is discussed last week by the president of the Granite City Rotary Club Don Shaffner, left, and two Granite City High School students who will represent the club at the seminar. Mary Earney, center, of South and Chris Rogenski of North will participate in the seminar to be held at Monmouth College from June 18 through 24. Both students are the 1978-79 presidents of their respective student councils. The seminar is designed to prepare young people for leadership roles in the future. The college's faculty will act as instructors for the week-long seminar.

Gets 2 years in drug, theft case

Robert A. Allen, 18, of 67 Parktowne West Mobile Home Park, has been sentenced in Madison County Circuit Court to serve two years in prison after pleading guilty to unlawful delivery of a controlled substance and a felony count of theft.

Circuit Judge Harold R. Clark pronounced sentence after accepting the plea on the two charges and dismissing another count of unlawful delivery of a controlled substance. Clark ordered that two-year prison sentences on each of the two charges to which Allen pleaded guilty be served concurrently.

The drug charge stems from an arrest Feb. 16, after an undercover investigation by the Metropolitan Enforcement Group of Southwestern Illinois (MEGSI).

The theft charge was the result of reducing a burglary charge to a felony theft. Allen pleaded guilty to removing items from the home of Edgar Patrick, 3819 Pontoon Road, March 16.

Terry Schofield, 2465 Waterman Ave., reported at 3:20 a.m. Saturday that the right front tire on his 1977 Pontiac was punctured with a sharp instrument while it was parked at 19th and State streets.

Terry Crouch, 2908 Kirkpatrick Homes, told police at 4:19 a.m. the right front tire on his 1969 Dodge was punctured while it was parked at 1229 Nineteenth St.

Work program to aid district

Fifty-six teenagers will be employed by the Metro-East Sanitary district this summer through the U.S. Department of Labor's summer employment program, members of the district's board of trustees were told in a meeting last week.

Wendell A. Whendon, executive director of the district, told the board that the youngsters will be employed at no cost to the district. The youth crews were expected to begin work this week in groups of eight with a supervisor. They will be assigned to cutting weeds, painting pumping stations and removing debris from drainage channels.

SERVED WITH WARRANT
Larry Wade Colard, 32, of St. Louis, was arrested at the home of his former wife in the 2900 block of Madison Avenue during a disturbance there at 9:50 p.m. Thursday and was charged with resisting arrest. Police also found he was wanted by the sheriff's department in Beaumont, Tex., on a warrant alleging he violated the terms of his probation after a burglary conviction. The warrant was issued April 27 in Texas.

J. H. Caudron Sr., 55, dies

James H. Caudron Sr., 55, of 2839 Palmer Ave. a Granite City resident 18 years, died suddenly of an apparent heart attack at 2 p.m. Thursday.

Mr. Caudron was stricken while visiting at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Doug (Cheryl) Winfield, 159 Arlington Drive. He was a disabled veteran of the U.S. Navy in which he served during the second World War. He was discharged from the Navy in 1949. He was a member of the Disabled American Veterans and Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 1300.

Mr. Caudron was born in Kirksville, Mo. He leaves his wife, Mrs. Ann Caudron, two sons, James H. Caudron Jr. in the Navy in Japan, and John Caudron of Granite City, four daughters, Mrs. Winfield, Mrs. Dan (Susan) Strauss of Mascoutah, Mrs. Kenneth (Sandra) Winegrove of Edwardsville and Mrs. Margaret Caudron of Granite City. Also surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Lee (Betty) Hollow of Granite City and Mrs. Doris Whittington of Pontiac, Mich.; his mother, Mrs. Opal Caudron of Granite City and 12 grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Three months term

Jimmy Dale Castle, 32, of 1714 Cleveland Blvd., has been sentenced in Madison County Circuit Court to serve three months in the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville after pleading guilty to possessing a controlled substance.

The charge was the result of an undercover investigation by agents of the Metropolitan Enforcement Group of Southwestern Illinois (MEGSI). Sentence was pronounced by Circuit Judge Joseph J. Barr.

Tax relief—Bakalis

Michael J. Bakalis, Democratic nominee for governor, launched a statewide property tax relief campaign Thursday to "refund millions of dollars to Illinois taxpayers."

Bakalis said the program would affect nearly two-thirds of all Illinois households, including homeowners and renters, and for the first time "tax extend" tax rebates to working, middle-income families.

"In February, Senate President Hynes, House Speaker Redmond and I indicated property tax relief would be one of our top priorities for 1978," Bakalis said. "House Bill 3279 will fulfill that commitment and has the support of the Democratic leadership."

"This week's 'Proposition 13' vote in California and the growing vocal protests of Illinois property taxpayers have sent a clear message to all governmental leaders."

"The Democrats have heard that message and are responding to it with legislation that meets the challenge and goes further by providing rebates to persons hard hit by rapidly increasing and burdensome property taxes."

"Throughout the last two weeks, I have been working with the Illinois Public Action Council, the state's largest citizens' taxpayers organization, and the Democratic leadership of the House and Senate to shape a realistic, yet fiscally responsible, tax relief program."

"Bill 3279 would extend the so-called 'circuit breaker' property tax relief, now available only to senior citizens and the handicapped, to nearly two-thirds of all households."

It would also provide immediate benefit increases for the elderly and handicapped.

"First-year costs to the state will be about $12 million. 'This can be financed without increasing the total budget figure proposed by Governor Thompson,' Bakalis said. "This is due in part to the unbudgeted $33 million in federal funds which President Carter recently announced would be available to the state during fiscal year 1979."

"The rest would be financed from the $6 million which the governor has budgeted for increases in the current 'circuit breaker' program, by eliminating unnecessary spending, and by reallocating funds within Thompson's 1979 budget."

"Future cost increases during the phase-in period can be met by allocating about five percent of the normal growth in state revenue to meet this pressing need."

"When provisions of the legislation are fully implemented, any taxpayer with a gross annual income of $30,000 or less whose property taxes exceed 3.5 percent of his annual income would be eligible for a rebate from the state of 30 percent of the excess tax over 3.5 percent of the taxpayer's income."

"Persons who rent their homes would also be eligible, since the state will continue to assume that 30 percent of annual rent constitutes the renter's share of his building's taxes."

"The bill will be amended in the Senate to phase-in the tax relief in a fiscally responsible manner over a four-year period," Bakalis said.

"During the first year, rebates will be for 12.5 percent of the excess over 3.5 percent; 25 percent in the second year; 37.5 percent in the third; and 50 percent in the fourth and final year of the phasing."

"For example, a homeowner with an annual income of $20,000 and a property tax bill of $1,000 would receive a rebate of $37.50 the first year, $75 the second, $112.50 the third and $150 the fourth year and each year thereafter."

"Maximum rebate under the bill would be $650 less two percent of the taxpayer's income."

"Property tax relief is one of the highest priorities of the Democratic Party and my campaign."

"Illinois can lead the nation with a responsible tax relief program — and avoid the kind of governmental chaos which may strike California — by responding to this top need of its citizens."

The twister struck at the foot of the McKinley Bridge, tore a big hole in the Venice electric power plant, and wrecked more than 20 Venice homes.

Venice Police Chief Mike Clifford was hurt fatally in the collapse of his home on Third Street.

A Madison man fell dead during the height of the storm, which veered through that city and then demolished the pig iron road at the local coke plant, now the Blast Furnace Department of National Steel Corporation's Granite City Steel Division.

The tornado overturned a ladle of molten iron onto seven workers, killing six of them. Two of the dead were Madisonians and four were Granite Cityans.

The 1929 depression took a severe economic toll on this community during much of the 1930s decade. But a turnaround then developed, fed to some extent by events related to the early stages of World War II.

The Press-Record on Monday, March 27, 1939, announced, "Engineers ask for change in river to give city a harbor. U.S. would dig canal on this side of river and erect flood levees. Would take place of present levee. Improvement cost figured at $10,200,000. Plan is urged upon Congress."

A story accompanying that headline said: "A comprehensive plan for development of the Mississippi River in the vicinity of Granite City at an estimated cost of $10,200,000 — was recommended to Congress by War Department engineers. The proposed plan approves relocation of the river channel and reclamation of the area of Savoyers bend for airport, park and recreational purposes at an additional cost of $17,555,000. However, the use of federal funds for the construction of a park, airport and recreational improvements was not recommended."

Quad Cities recall that, a few years later, the Mississippi River channel was relocated to a new eight-mile-long canal bypassing the dangerous navigation Chain of Rocks reach of the "father of waters."

On Jan. 13, 1947, the Press-Record said that Granite City's worst conflagration destroyed almost a half-block of downtown business buildings, disrupted electric, telephone and transportation facilities, and caused damage estimated in excess of $300,000 Thursday night (Jan. 9).

The fire broke out again in debris on the floor above the Adamson Appliance Co. on State Street at 6:10 a.m. Sunday but was extinguished at 6:46 a.m. without any further loss.

"Eight stores and a 28-room hotel were affected."

"They are in two buildings, one an L-shaped, two-story structure facing 19th Street and extending around to State Street. The other is a three-story building on the corner wedge."

"All the stores and the hotel area were either destroyed or badly damaged."

State policemen's visit to this community Friday, May 12, 1960, was reported in the Press-Record May 15.

"Acting on secret orders from Governor Adlai Stevenson (D) the 1952 and 1956 Democratic presidential nominee and father of present U.S. Senator Adlai Stevenson), more than 50 uniformed and civilian-garbed state police invaded the Venice Hyde Park Club and Madison 200 Club at 3:05 p.m. Friday, nabbing three operators and 48 employees and confiscating gambling equipment in the two handbooks.

"To spearhead the attack against gambling in the state by utilizing highway police, the notorious Hyde Park and 200 clubs were selected for the first victims because they are reported to be the largest gaming houses in Illinois operating in wide-open defiance of the law."

Owners of the Hyde Park Club handbook were expected to transact $300,000 worth of business Friday afternoon when they were rudely interrupted by a group of 35 state highway patrolmen and leaders who poured in unexpectedly, armed with a search warrant, axes and crowbars.

Size of the anticipated petting volume in the 200 Club bookshop was one-third of that at the Hyde Park, authorities said they determined from their findings during the raid.

The same edition headlined, "CAA urges Class A airport at Lakeside, disclosing Civil Aeronautics Administration interest in seeing the local airport site be developed with a runway of up to 6,000 feet, with a seaplane base at Horseshoe Lake."

Lake-side, in this 75th Press-Record year of 1978, is still in the news. It has been suggested as a logical place to be developed in the most recent issue, June 8, 1978, "Early local action is needed to obtain a general airport."

The article added, "As is customary, if one of the thousands of cities in the United States have been chosen for the honor. 'Selection of Granite City for All-America City honors will inaugurate numerous local observances which are expected to continue throughout the year.'"

"The All-America City flag will be raised here following a parade Saturday afternoon (Jan. 24)."

"The widely-sought All-America award will be formally presented at a banquet Feb. 23 in the Granite City High School memorial gymnasium."

"The award to Granite City recognizes a variety of achievements credited to 'intelligent citizen action.'"

The Nov. 12, 1964, heading read, "GC Steel to start $120,000,000 expansion—biggest project in area history—oxygen furnace to replace open hearth."

An article reported, "Keeping pace with the national trend in the steel industry, Granite City Steel Co.—13th largest in the nation—announced Tuesday (Nov. 10) its plans for a $120 million modernization and expansion program at the local plant."

"The announcement was hailed by civic and union leaders as a forward move for the Quad-Cities for growth and prosperity."

"It is seen as an expression of faith in this community by the largest steel industry in the two-state metropolitan area."

"The program is to be started next year and will continue through 1967. It will include a new 80-inch, fully-computerized, continuous hot strip mill, a new basic oxygen furnace plant and a third continuous galvanizing line."

As another expression of faith in this community, the Press-Record today—June 12, 1978—is announcing a construction and expansion program at the newspaper plant, 1815 Delmar Ave., Granite City.

The present 32-page letterpress is to be replaced by six-page offset production facilities.

The latest in a series of Press-Record expansions—previous projects included 1928, 1958 and 1961—is scheduled for completion in the fall of 1978.

obtained concerning location, employment and existing contributions made by the absent parent.

"After this process is completed, Family support specialists will notify such parents that a court order will be entered against them to provide, increased or resume child support payments."

"Parents whose whereabouts are unknown will be referred to the State Parent Locator Service for location verification. The AFDC and SPIC often utilize the resources of the Federal Parent Locator Service to obtain leads."

Appropriate cases will be referred to the assistant Illinois attorney general for Madison County for appropriate court action, it was related.

"It costs the department less than $3 million to collect about $12 million yearly from absent parents in more than 10,000 AFDC cases."

"Recipients who fail to cooperate with the department in providing information about absent parents could have their grant allotments reduced or terminated," the spokesman warned.

"Similar services are available to any Illinois resident not receiving public assistance. Fees charged are determined by the family's gross income and size."

FACES TWO CHARGES

Howard Richter, 22, of 2127 Illinois Ave., was arrested at 10:30 p.m. Thursday at Vic's Tavern, 20th Street and Illinois Avenue, and was charged with two counts of battery. His mother-in-law, Juanita Sharp of Kansas, alleged the alleged Richter pushed food from the table onto the floor and then struck her during a disturbance in the home about 7 p.m. Thursday. His wife, Linda Richter, alleged he struck her during a disagreement in the tavern just before he was arrested.

Mrs. Margaret Drennan dies

Mrs. Margaret M. Drennan, 51, of 229 Edison Ave., died at Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis, at 3:30 Friday after becoming suddenly ill. She had been in the hospital four days.

She was a member of St. Joseph Catholic Church and the Hibernians.

Mrs. Drennan was born in East St. Louis and had lived in Granite City 13 years.

She is survived by her husband, John, two sons, John J. Jr. of St. Louis and Daniel of Granite City; four daughters, Mrs. Edward (Deborah) Hayter of Bruceville, Mrs. Steven (Lisa) Simpson of Granite City, Miss Mary Beth Drennan and Miss Patricia Sue Drennan, both at home.

Also surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Alfonso (Elizabeth) Laskowski and Mrs. Albert (Katherine) Lawson, both of Belleville, and three brothers, George Bailey of Belleville, Robert Bailey of Swansea and Donald Bailey of Fairview Heights.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Mrs. Mary Fresen, 91, dies

Mrs. Mary L. Fresen, 91, a lifelong resident of Granite City, died at 1:35 p.m. Friday at The Colonades.

Mrs. Fresen had been ill the past three years and had resided at The Colonades for the last year.

Noah E. Troyer dies at 85

Noah E. Troyer, 85, of 3945 Park Lane, a retired carpenter, died at 8:35 a.m. Sunday at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

He was born in Seymour, Mo., and also resided in Glen Carbon prior to moving to this area five years ago.

Mr. Troyer worked through the Granite City Carpenter's Local.

He was a member of the Glen Carbon American Legion Post, and Veterans of World War I, Barracks 2215, Collinsville.

His wife, Pearl Troyer, died Dec. 1, 1973.

Survivors include one son, Wayne Troyer of Murfreesboro, Tenn.; daughter, Mrs. Doreen Gray of Granite City; nine grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a.m. Wednesday at an Edwardsville funeral home. Burial will be in Glen Carbon City Cemetery.

James L. Wilson, 66, of 2122 State St., died at 10:35 p.m. Sunday at St. Elizabeth Hospital, where he had been a patient two days.

Born in Laurel, Bloomery, Tenn., he served in the U.S. Army from March 17, 1942, to Feb. 28, 1945, when he retired. Following his service retirement, Mr. Wilson was employed for five years as a maintenance man at the commissary at the Granite City Army Installation. He received many awards and medals while serving in the Armed Forces.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Ann Wilson; two daughters, Miss Annegette Wilson and Miss Evelyn Wilson, both of Granite City; three brothers, Jesse, Etzel and Carl Wilson, all of Laurel, Bloomery, Tenn.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

CLEO RAITT RITES

Funeral services were held at 11 a.m. today at a Dupo funeral home for Cleo P. "Tom" Raitt, 69, of Dupo, a member of Operating Engineers Local 525 of Granite City. Mr. Raitt was dead on arrival at Centerville Township Hospital Friday.

Policeman, two men hurt in disturbance

Three men, including a policeman were injured during a disturbance in the parking lot of Steib's Tavern, 2422 Nameoki Road, at 7:35 p.m. Sunday.

Granite City Patrolman Timothy Lyeria was summoned on a report of a fight and parked his police car near the tavern entrance. While Lyeria was getting out of the squad car, a pickup truck backed up into the car's door, pinning Lyeria's right thigh between his car door and the door frame, he reported.

While Lyeria was trapped, the driver of the truck got out and walked toward the officer, who drew his police revolver and ordered the man to spread his arms and legs and lean against the truck.

The man complied and Lyeria was able to free his leg from the door. Lyeria said the driver of the truck was bleeding from the head and he said he had been beaten.

A woman then told the officer that another man had been knocked out during the disturbance and was being put into a green station wagon. Lyeria approached the vehicle and found a man in an unconscious condition in the back. Additional officers arrived at that time and summoned an ambulance for two injured men. A Granite City ambulance took Marlin Hutchinson, 30, of 1216

Meridian Ave., the unconscious man, and Kendall Beck, 22, of 803 Kirkpatrick Homes, driver of the truck, to St. Elizabeth Hospital for treatment.

Arrested at the scene and charged with fighting were Thomas E. Moore, 20, and Wayne E. Howland, 33, of both of 308 E. 23rd St. They were released on $25 bond each. Hutchinson, who was admitted to the hospital, also was charged with fighting and was ordered held for police.

Beck, who suffered a four-inch contusion to his head and swelling to his face, left the hospital during emergency room treatment. A ticket charging him with reckless driving has been issued and his driver's license was being held by police as bond.

Lyeria suffered a bruise to his upper right thigh and the squad car had damage to the left front end and door, which can not be closed.

Officers have been unable to determine the cause of the fight, but believe several men were arm-wrestling at a table and when Beck left and went outside, he was struck on the head with a beer bottle.

Several men then beat Beck and knocked him to the ground, witnesses indicated. He fell on top of Hutchinson, knocking Hutchinson unconscious, police were told.

Murder

Department said that because of the burial identification will be difficult, but that fingerprints may be obtainable.

Lt. Hertz said the man's face was partially decomposed and that there were no rings, wallet, watch or other personal items that might help identification.

There was speculation that the slaying may have resulted from a continuing drug war between St. Louis factions.

An autopsy to determine the cause and probable time of death was to be conducted today.

HURT IN CRASH

Samuel J. Reid, 53, St. Louis, sustained injuries at 8:12 a.m. Saturday when his car and one driven by Charles E. Anderson, 18, of 2917 Dale Ave., collided at Wayne and Jill avenues.

Anderson was speculated on a charge of failure to yield the right of way.

SIUE Concert Chorale program here Thursday

The Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Concert Chorale, under the direction of Dr. Leonard Van Camp, will present a concert of Sacred Music of Europe and America at St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ, 208 Cleveland Blvd., Granite City, Thursday, June 15, at 8 p.m.

The concert is being sponsored by Niedringhaus United Methodist Church and St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ.

James Parisi, a junior organ student at SIUE, will present a pre-concert organ recital from 7:30 to 8 p.m. The musical program of the 50-voice SIUE Concert Chorale will begin at 8 p.m. with the singing of several Renaissance Motets including "Ave Maria" by Nicholas Gombert, "O Magnum Mysterium" by Giovanni Palestrina, "Ave Verum" by William Byrd, "Surrexit Pastor Bonus" by Orlando di Lasso, and a Baroque Double Choir Motet of "Psalm 100 (Jachet dem Herren)" by Heinrich Schütz.

The presentation also will include "Locus Iste a Deo Factus Est" by Anton Bruckner, "Wondrous Cool, Thou Woodland Quiet" by Johannes Brahms, and several American pieces including "When Jesus Wept" by William Billings, "O Praise God in His Holiness" by Lowell Mason, "Glory in the Highest" by Edward L. White, "Come Where My Love Lies Dreaming" by Stephen Foster, "Confiteor (from Mass in D)" by John K. Paine, "The Lamb" by Earl George, and "Omnia Spiritus Laudet Dominum" by Lloyd Pfautsch.

The Concert Chorale is a select group of singers chosen by auditions in the spring and summer. The group has been seen on national television and heard around the world on the Sacred Heart Radio Broadcast.

The Chorale has worked under the baton of such well-known persons as Paul Steinitz of the London Bach Choir; Daniel Pinkham; Abram Sassevich, the well-known Soviet conductor; Sall Terri; and Roger Wagner. In 1974, the Chorale took first place in the 11th Annual Choral Competition in Spittal, Austria, and thus became the first choir from the United States to win this award.

Dedicated to performing the finest choral repertoire of all periods, the group is especially noted for singing music from their own American heritage. The membership of the Chorale represents a cross section of the student body, but many of them are music majors who intend to teach music or to be performers upon graduation.

The Thursday concert at St. Peter Church will be a farewell concert for the group which is departing on a 28 day tour of eight European countries in which they will perform a total of nine concerts and will twice sing in Sunday Masses. They will perform in the Mozarteum in Salzburg and in the Chartes Cathedral in France.

The concert is open to the public and a freewill offering will be taken to assist the group with the expenses of the tour. The three sponsoring churches invite everyone to be present to hear the choir and to wish them well as they depart to represent our nation abroad, a spokesman said.

8% SIUE pay hikes

Internal guidelines for the distribution of Fiscal Year 1979 (July 1978-June 1979) salary increase dollars at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville were approved Thursday by the SIUE Board of Trustees. The increases are effective July 1.

The plans assume that state appropriations will include funds for salary increases amounting to eight percent, plus another two percent for low paid Civil Service employees.

Civil Service employees will receive a $51 per month across-the-board increase and will be eligible for merit increases up to four percent.

Administrative staff employees also will receive $51 across-the-board and will be considered for merit increases ranging up to five percent.

Faculty employees are eligible for adjustments based on equity and performance, with salary minimums established for various ranks. One-tenth of all available salary adjustment dollars are to be distributed as distinguished performance awards.

The monthly minimums established are: professor, $2,300; associate professor, $1,925; assistant professor, $1,595; and instructor-lecturer, $1,300.

The salary increase plans for faculty were developed by the vice-president and provost in consultation with the Faculty Senate, University Senate, academic deans and directors, and the president.

Graduate, teaching and research assistants will receive

Set deadline for fireworks permits

The last day for any group of three or more persons, residing in an unincorporated area of the county, to apply for a fireworks permit for a Fourth of July display from the county clerk at Edwardsville, is June 20.

The state law requires that application for a permit must be made at least 15 days prior to the display, according to Evelyn Bowles, county clerk.

The Illinois Law requires the display to be handled by a competent individual, designated by the chairman of the County Board.

Applicants are required to list three responsible persons who would be in charge of the fireworks. Nelson Hagnauer, County Board chairman, designates one of the three to supervise the fireworks display, Miss Bowles said.

An across-the-board hourly rate increase of 25 cents was approved for student workers, effective Jan. 1, 1979.

Salary increase plans for administrative staff and Civil Service employees were developed by the vice-presidents and were reviewed by the University Staff Advisory Council.

Salary increase plans for student workers were developed by the Office of Student Work and Financial Assistance and the vice-president for student affairs, in consultation with the student body president.

Appeals board meets Wednesday

The Granite City Board of Appeals and Plan Commission will meet this week at the city office building at 2301 Adams St. to consider several zoning requests.

The Board of Appeals will meet at 1:15 p.m. Wednesday to study two requests for zoning variances. Ronald Gibson, 322 Wilson Park Lane, is requesting permission to construct a garage three feet from the side property line, and Charles R. Svoboda Jr., 4046 Vesco Ave., is asking for a variance to construct a carport one foot from the side property line. The Plan Commission will meet at 1:15 p.m. Thursday to consider three requests for zoning changes.

Thomas Casdler, 2507 Denver St., is requesting a change from R-3 residential to B-business for the repair of automobiles. Richard Buer is requesting a change from C-1 commercial to C-2 commercial for the storage of automobiles at 2007 to 2013 E. 20th St. The property is to be leased to Abel Auto Body.

Howard Prewett is requesting a change from R-3 to C-1 zoning at 2733 Buxton Ave., to construct a prefabricated building as a shop to re-furbish antiques.

County tourism interest; state 7th among the 50

Kent Reed, Peter Cairns and Betty Burt, all of Alton; George Arnold of Edwardsville and Ivan Schroeder of Highland have been elected directors of the Southern Illinois Tourism Council for Madison County. Council President Ralph Stauder of Belleville has announced.

They will represent Madison County in the promotion of attractions in Southern Illinois. They join 50 other volunteer directors who are responsible for the entire southern section of the state.

"Thirty-five counties make up our region. This is becoming a banner year for tourism in our area because of increased promotional activities by the state and regional tourism programs," Stauder commented.

"Tourism is big business for any community. 'If a family of four stays one night in an area, reports show that the family might spend from $50 to $60 a night on lodging, meals, entertainment, gifts, shopping, etc.

"That's a lot of money. Now, multiply that figure by 100 families a day times seven days a week — that's really big business.

"The council's job is to promote Southern Illinois cooperatively with the help of a matching funds program set up by the state legislature 15 years ago.

"Recent figures show over $130 million spent by tourists in Southern Illinois in one season alone.

"Our Tourism Council works closely with legislators, the State Office of Tourism, and the Department of Business and Economic Development. We are directed by the Illinois Promotion Act to formulate programs for development of the travel industry in Illinois."

He cited Office of Tourism campaigns, brochures and newspaper, magazine, radio and television feature stories. Stauder noted travel information centers, such as the Illinois Adventure Center in downtown Chicago and interstate welcome centers staffed by travel counselors; distribution of promotional literature; and consultation on improvement of tourism facilities.

"These programs are funded by local contributions and state matching funds — a joint effort which benefits state and local communities alike."

"The Southern Illinois Tourism Council will assist a community in developing particular tourism promotional plans in cooperation with other attractions in the area, to entice the traveler to stay an extra day or more."

"Tourism is one of Illinois' largest industries and is a big one, providing numerous jobs for Illinoisans."

In 1974, 41,100 persons served tourists in eating and drinking places; 26,800 in lodging; 24,000 in public transportation; 11,500 in entertainment and recreation; 10,300 in miscellaneous retail trade; 8,800 in personal motor vehicle sales and services; and 4,200 in travel arrangement.

"Illinois ranks seventh among the states in the number of jobs produced by travel," he concluded.

The council's officers assisting Stauder are: Clarence Fonke, Breese, and John Wheeler, Dale, vice-presidents; Angelo Fiorino, Murphysboro, secretary; Harry Truitt, Vandalia, treasurer; William Hurst, Marion, state supervisor; and Wayne Schlosser, Belleville, and Ray Linton, Paducah, promotional consultants.

Hearing Tuesday on trucks carrying hazardous materials

A public hearing to receive testimony prior to the adoption of initial regulations concerning transportation of hazardous materials on Illinois highways will be held in Springfield on Tuesday.

The Illinois Department of Transportation (IDOT), which was mandated to adopt regulations under the Illinois Hazardous Materials Transportation Act, will be holding the hearing from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. tomorrow in the auditorium of the IDOT Headquarters, 2300 S. Dirksen Parkway. A hearing was previously held in Chicago June 6 and 7.

The regulations which IDOT proposes to adopt were published in the May 12 edition of the Illinois Register, the official publication for notification of proposed rules. The Illinois Register is available only by subscription from the Illinois Secretary of State Office.

Additional reviewing copies of the May 12 edition are located at the following central and southern Illinois locations: Milner Library, Illinois State University, Normal; University of Illinois Library (Document Division), Law Library and Institute of Government and Public Affairs, Urbana.

Booth Library, Eastern Illinois University, Charleston; Lovejoy Library, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville; Belleville Area College Library, Springfield; Callon Davis Library, Bradley University, Peoria; and Memorial Library, Western Illinois University, Macomb.

Copies are also located at IDOT district offices in Ottawa, Peoria, Paris, Springfield, Effingham, Fairview Heights and Carbondale.

The proposed regulations reflect an intention to start regulating at the level where the greatest exposure to accidents and incidents is said to be incurred—principally when bulk shipments of hazardous materials are made on state highways.

Significantly affected by the proposed regulations would be shippers and transporters engaged only in intrastate commerce.

Those engaged in interstate commerce will mostly be affected in the sense that the current federal regulations which are adopted as state law will be more widely enforced.

After consideration of all testimony taken at both hearings, a final rule will be filed with the secretary of state and will be published in the Illinois Register.

Craig Alan Nonn has been transferred from the Granite City Police Department's patrol division to the detective division, where he will assist in clearing a backlog of crime investigations. Chief of Police Ronald J. Veizer has announced.

The transfer reduces the number of officers on patrol by one, "but we really need another man in the detective division. He was named a juvenile officer Sept. 28, 1977, and has served jointly in the patrol division and as a juvenile officer since that time.

He completed the basic police course at Belleville Area College in 1974 and received his associate's degree in applied science from the same college last year.

Nonn has completed Southwestern Illinois Law Enforcement Commission seminars and courses in criminal investigation and juvenile justice and has completed certification as an operator of VASCAR radar and the Law Enforcement Additional Data System (LEADS) computer network.

He also has been certified as a sharpshooter by the National Rifle Association. During his career, he has received six commendations.

Nonn is married and they have a child.

Home health care training

The "homemaker-home health care training" project at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville—approved for continuation by the Illinois Board of Higher Education last week—is one of 12 community service programs approved by the IBHE for funding under Title I-A, Higher Education Act for Fiscal Year 1978.

The project at SIUE provides approximately 60 homemakers in their middle years with training and information designed to improve their home maintenance practices, particularly with respect to financial management and planning.

The program also provides the participants with skills which can be used to enter rewarding employment in homemaker services. The latest federal grant here totals $49,498.

Rowena Lutz is project director of the program at SIUE.

According to the project proposal, the Madison-St. Clair counties area is home to an inordinately large number of retired persons and individual women of middle years, struggling to survive on pension, retirement or public aid incomes.

Since most of these women do not have skills other than those related to housekeeping and child-rearing, they feel inadequate and incapable of resolving their financial difficulties, the project director said. These problems can begin to affect their total well-being, she added.

The project was recommended for approval to the IBHE by the Community Services and Continuing Education Council, an advisory body of the board.

ADM warned of sewer shutoff

Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler has notified officials of the Archer Daniels Midland Co. that city sewer service to the company's soybean processing plant on Cargill Road will be discontinued after June 20 unless sewer problems allegedly resulting from the plant's operation are corrected.

The letter also told the company that charges will be filed under city ordinance 3286 which regulates use of sewers.

Schuler said the letter was sent to J.R. Randall, president of ADM, at Decatur, Ill., after the City Council set a 30-day limit for correcting the sewer problems last month. The June 20 shutoff date was based on the date of the council's action, the mayor said.

City engineers have attributed the sewer problems of the type of sewage coming from the ADM plant, alleging that it clogs the sewer line to the Lockhaven lift station, causing backups in basements of homes along the sewer line.

ADM at one time rebuilt the sewer line and the lift station at its expense in an effort to correct the problems, but engineers claim the effluent from the plant continues to clog the lines.

REMAINS IN COMA
Michael DeAngelo, 3, of 1329 Madison Ave., remains in "very critical condition" in the intensive care unit of St. Louis Children's Hospital, but his condition seems to be stabilizing, a hospital spokesman said this morning.

The boy has been in a coma since May 22 when he swallowed a substance containing mercury his stepfather kept in the glove compartment of his car.

Earl "Pelo" Stanfill, 66, 1736 Sixth St., Madison, a 65-year resident of the Quad-Cities, died at 9:10 a.m. Sunday at Barnes Hospital, St. Louis.

He had been in ill health for a year and one half and was hospitalized for eight days.

Mr. Stanfill was self-employed for 47 years at the Stanfill Shoe Repair Store and retired six months ago. He was born in Kennett, Mo.

A charter member of the Madison Booster Club, Mr. Stanfill also was a past member of the Madison Fire Department, Odd Fellows Lodge and was a past president of the Boot and Shoe Workers Union. Mr. Stanfill was a justice of peace from 1939 until 1943.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Mary (Rosenbaum) Stanfill; two sons, George Earl Stanfill of Kansas City, Mo., and Charles Edward Stanfill of St. Charles, Mo.; one brother, Winfred Stanfill of Venice; a sister, Mrs. Ben (Virginia) Trapp of Aurora, Ill.; four grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

EARL STANFILL

Withdraws appointment

The appointment by Mayor Paul Schuler of an employee of the sewage treatment plant was withdrawn during the regular City Council meeting last week after several aldermen protested that the appointee did not live in Granite City.

In announcing the appointment of Paul Schroeder as a maintenance man at the treatment plant, the mayor told council members that Schroeder did not live in the city, but had assured the mayor he would move here within 30 days after going to work.

The announcement brought objections from several aldermen, among them Sam Whitmer of the Second Ward who said, "I have nothing against the man, but we have an ordinance that calls for all city employees to live in the city. I would be against this until the man (Schroeder) lives in the city."

Alderman Clyde Boyd of Ward Two told the mayor, "I've never been against one of your appointments yet, but I'd be inclined to vote against this one since he does not live in the city."

The mayor said later that he had decided to appoint Schroeder to the maintenance post because Schroeder, who lives in the Chicago area, had worked with a sub-contractor on construction of the secondary sewage treatment plant and was experienced in electrical installations and operation of the motors and bridge at the plant.

He said Schroeder requested a job at the plant and said he would move to Granite City if appointed.

880 CASH STOLEN
Kate Hayes, 1723 Fifth St., Madison, reported at 11 a.m. Friday that $80 cash was taken from a drawer in a chiffonier in her home. She said two youths had broken in her home shortly before she discovered the money was missing.

attendance. A locksmith was utilized to gain entry.

The bishop said he was refused keys when he arrived by plane for yesterday's service, but warned that he would lead a Mass "even if I have to break down the door." He quoted the anti-Stamboldjev group as saying to the bishop, "This is our church. Go build yourself another church."

It is being asserted that the group opposing the pastor changed locks on the church at 6:15 p.m. Sunday for the third time in seven days.

Those desiring a new pastor say allegations include divisive activities, erroneous statements, interference with business activities of the board, loss of younger church members and refusal to publish board materials in the church bulletin.

Bishop Simeon has backed the pastor, whom he appointed. The bishop said last week, "A bishop tries to be true to the canons of the church. If something is wrong, it has to be made right."

Manoff agreed with the dismissal of the board, saying, "It's best to start all over. We need a fresh start."

Manoff has declined comment other than to verify the dismissal of the pastor.

John Landoff, a church member and prominent St. Louis area auto dealer and philanthropist, said police were on duty in the church area.

Manoff alleges that seven board members abstained on the vote to oust the pastor, whom he said had asked the board to replace Manoff.

There are differing accounts as to which of the two groups among the membership is larger.

Home burglarized; owner attacked

A $500 stereo, a $10 speaker, a $20 lighting fixture for a "black light," and a $5 CB radio monitor were stolen from the home of William E. Carlton, 1728 Cleveland Blvd., Apt. 1, about 7 p.m. Sunday.

Carlton said he left the apartment for about five minutes and when he returned the items were gone. There were no signs of forced entry, despite a combination lock securing the door.

At 8:30 p.m. Sunday, police were called back to 1728 Cleveland Blvd., after Carlton was grabbed by the throat and choked. Police questioned Carlton and then went to the home of James H. Scott, 36, of 801 Niedringhaus Ave., arresting him on a complaint signed by Carlton and alleging battery.

Scott was released at 10:55 p.m. Sunday on a $35 cash bond. Carlton was treated and released from St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Brighter lighting for parking lots

The Board of Trustees of Southern Illinois University on Thursday granted project approval for capital improvements to purchase and install high-mount lighting fixtures in the university parking facilities commonly referred to as the "fan parking lots" on the SIUE campus.

The project will provide for installation of six 110-foot-tall lighting fixtures at strategic locations throughout the parking facilities at a cost of about $100,000. Funding will be from the Traffic and Parking Revenue Fund account.

According to the resolution approved by the Board, acquisition and installation of the lighting fixtures will provide for greatly improved lighting in the parking lots, contributing to the safety and well-being of those who use them.

University officials said the proposed high-mount fixtures will generate about five times the amount of surface area light as the existing lighting fixtures, and will operate at a much more efficient level in terms of electricity usage.

The existing lighting system utilizes an underground cable electrical system which has proved unreliable at times and also difficult to repair when necessary, officers said.

A new cable system will be installed with the high-mount fixtures, thus reducing downtime of the lighting system and maintenance and repair costs.

To avoid excessive costs of removal and to provide for a back-up system in the event the high-mount fixtures are out of order, the existing light fixtures will be left in place.

The board authorized completion of plans, specifications, and details of the project for future consideration by the SIU board, subject to Illinois Board of Higher Education approval.

Leasing plan for public parking lot

A plan under which Granite City may derive some revenue from a public parking lot on Edison Avenue between 18th and 19th Streets by leasing the 36 parking spaces there at $5 per month was approved by the City Council Tuesday night.

The plan was presented by Alderman Lloyd Bailey of the Fifth Ward who has been meeting with representatives of downtown merchants who originally established the metered parking lot in an agreement that provided the merchants would help meet payments incurred by purchase of the lot.

Bailey said the original agreement provided that the city would pay $240 monthly on the purchase price, and the merchants would make up the difference in the monthly payment.

The alderman told the council that payments by the downtown group were $2,125 in arrears and that the lot has been producing virtually no revenue to the city during the past year and a half.

Bailey said many of the spaces in the parking lot have been leased.

Methodists to host vocal and orchestra concert June 26

The 40-member Continental Singers and Orchestra will perform a live concert of contemporary Christian music in person on Monday, June 26, at 7:30 p.m. at the Nameoki United Methodist Church, Pontoon Road at Primrose Avenue.

This concert is being planned and presented by the seven United Methodist churches of the Quad-Cities: Trinity, Nameoki, Niedringhaus, Dewey Avenue, Good Shepherd, Madison and Venice.

Blending contemporary gospel music, spirituals, anthems and hymn arrangements, this year's program, "Sing It With Love," will feature many of the most popular Christian songs being heard around the nation today.

The 24 vocalists and 10-piece orchestra are completely "self-contained," including their own sound and lighting equipment.

Performers are selected for the yearly 75-day summer tour by auditions from thousands of high school and college-age young people across the United States and in foreign countries.

Auditions are held after each concert for future talent.

From their start in 1967, various editions of the Continental Singers and Orchestra have made more than 4,000 live appearances domestically and over 1,000 foreign appearances, before more than 2,500,000 people.

This year, the Continental Singers and Orchestra will visit Russia for the first time.

In addition to every section of the U.S., the summer tour includes Canada, 11 western European countries and Great Britain, plus Poland, Yugoslavia, Israel, Fiji, Tahiti, Samoa, New Zealand and Bermuda.

They have recorded 13 albums on the Word, Light, and New Life labels, plus their newest, "Sing It With Love," also on New Life Records.

Continental Singers and Orchestra are a presentation of Continental Ministries of Thousand Oaks, Calif., with Cam Florida as president.

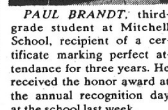

Man changing tire is hit, leg broken

Dave Tackett, 30, of 2133 Monroe St., suffered a broken right leg when he was struck by a car while he was changing a flat tire on a taxicab at 20th Street west of Park Street at 11:45 p.m. Thursday.

Tackett, a driver for Dave's Taxi, said his cab had a flat left rear tire and he was changing it when an eastbound car and an eastbound truck approached side-by-side and the car, unable to change lanes, slid into him.

The driver of the car, Linda Sevik, 2560 Revere's Route, said she did not see Tackett until it was too late to avoid striking him.

Tackett was taken by Granite City ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was admitted with a broken right leg, abrasions to the leg and back pains.

BEATRICE EVA GOTT, third-grade student at Mitchell School, recipient of a certificate marking perfect attendance for three years. He received the honor award at the annual recognition day at the school last week.

No charge for energy survey

Energy use representatives from Illinois Power Company service areas who are conducting free energy efficiency surveys in the service areas of the company are carrying proper identification cards, company officials emphasized Friday.

H. C. Mees, director of residential and commercial energy programs for IP, said the company is conducting the program to make customers more aware of their home's energy efficiency and insulation needs.

"The energy use adviser who calls on you is prepared to make a complete survey of your home," Mees said. "You will get a report that tells the steps you can take to use energy more efficiently. There is no charge or obligation for this service."

No IP representative will seek to enter a home for this purpose without displaying proper identification, he added.

A WORD TO THE ENERGY-WISE

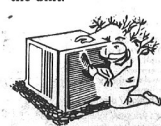

Clean filters keep your air conditioner efficient.

A clogged filter causes your air conditioner to work overtime. It uses energy needlessly and deprives you of the comfort an air conditioner is designed to give.

For a room air conditioner or central unit, the advice from experts is: Change filters once a month.

Suggestion: when you change a filter, write the date of change on its side. Then you can tell at a glance if the filter is due for a change.

Clean the grill on your outdoor unit. Dust and leaves clog the grill on the outdoor unit of a central system. Result: the unit runs constantly and still doesn't cool the house. Keep the grill clean and be sure shrubbery doesn't impede air circulation to the unit.

IP ILLINOIS POWER

Continuing education vital, graduates told

The world is undergoing change so rapidly that today's university graduates who fail to continue adding to their knowledge will be intellectually bankrupt within a few years, according to Dr. Kenneth A. Shaw, president of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Addressing the class of 1978 at commencement exercises Friday evening, President Shaw told the students, "Looking at your degree in cold, hard economic terms, you may consider it an investment that loses both interest and principal at the rate of at least six percent a year. That means if you fail to build on this investment, you will be intellectually bankrupt in 10 or 15 years."

"The world will not slow down so that the graduates can keep pace. You will have to exert the best you have in your experience to keep learning, if you just want to keep up," he said. "Commencement is a beginning. The degree you get today is, at best, compelling evidence that you are in command of the rudimentary essentials of the process of learning," Dr. Shaw said.

"As people grow to understanding the outside world around them, they are continually reshaping the inner world of self. This takes active effort, a focus on recognizing our strengths and weaknesses," he said.

Quoting one of Peter Drucker's axioms which points out that "strong people have strong weaknesses," the university president added, "It will take plenty of our energy to find ways to minimize the adverse effect of the chinks in our armor."

Drucker, an economist, was the recipient of an honorary degree of doctor of economics during SIUE's commencement exercises. Also honored was President Leopold Sedar Senghor of Senegal for his personal contributions to world literature. President Senghor, who was awarded an honorary degree of humane letters from SIUE, was represented at the event by Ambassador Andre Jean Coulbary.

In his address to the graduating class, Dr. Shaw advised the students to "accept the fact that there will be times when you will be damned if you do and damned if you don't. It is far better to be damned for doing."

The university president added that the graduates should have the courage to fail and the strength to "keep on keeping on," even when failure hits its hardest.

Dr. Shaw told the graduates, they should not rest on their laurels to be perfect and just waiting for their arrival on the public scene to fulfill all their aspirations and dreams immediately.

"If you are going forward on that assumption, I don't think we have certainly failed you and the world by sending out someone who has become a slave to the most dangerous of foolishness—callow optimism."

In pointing out some of society's problem areas, Dr. Shaw said, "We still see grievous disparities in levels of income and social and political accomplishment."

"Although the job market for college graduates has improved, over 40 percent of young blacks are facing a future of continuing joblessness."

"The practices of centuries are still inherent in our personal and social character. And pressures for equality and improved opportunity by groups organized on the basis of racial, ethnic or sexual identity will continue to generate tension."

"Peace is hardly a harbinger of hope for some economists. Currently, some pundits are preparing us for a recession that may last years, increasing unemployment by millions. Despite the brilliance of men like Dr. Drucker, we still seem unable to find ways to control inflation and increase employment."

"What we seem to be best at is wasting resources. We are a nation with around six percent of the world's population, and yet we are still continually consuming roughly a third of the world's energy resources," Shaw said.

Discussing the leadership crisis said to be facing people in this country, the local university president said that "blaming our leaders for our problems has become America's favorite indoor sport, from the top office in the land on down."

In looking at problems occurring in other parts of the world, Dr. Shaw said, "A spirit of blindly destructive anarchy is rampant in Europe, with terrorists bent on 'saving' society by destroying it receiving too much support from apparent bystanders."

"Brute thugs are translated into heroes by those who somehow can bring themselves to believe that a glorious new order will rise from the ashes and rubble. History has no lessons to that effect."

The educational leader went on to say that "this nation remains too strong to let the future down by moral default. Available to all of us is a variety of freedoms that are the envy of the world."

"Let us use our freedoms of speech and the press to assess actualities and articulate hopes." Dr. Shaw said, "We continue to seek constantly for better support for education because there is a commitment of long standing to the right of all citizens to know what they need to know to make the right decisions."

"We can take the generosity of spirit that Leopold Senghor has shown toward his brothers here and his former colonial oppressors in Africa, and let it inspire us to a dynamic reconciliation with our neighbors on this earth."

New hours at Family Planning

Starting today, clinic sessions will take place from 12:30 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. Monday; 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Tuesday; and from 2:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. on Thursdays.

Arrested on trespass charge

Joseph Young, 19, of 22 Shrivin Drive, was arrested on the parking lot of the Kroger Store, 3401 Nantawick Road, at 2:40 a.m. Saturday and was charged with criminal trespass to property.

Police alleged that Young refused to obey an order not to park in the area and was arrested when police observed him return to the lot the second time after an earlier warning had been given.

In an effort to prevent gatherings of youthful drivers on the parking lot during morning hours, police have been taking the license numbers on cars parked there and a person giving to the owners that if they returned they would be arrested.

Officers said Young was among those warned early Saturday morning. They alleged he returned to the lot a short time later but drove off before officers could apprehend him, and then returned again later, when he was arrested.

Hazardous materials men leading hair trigger lives

VIRDEN — When railroad disaster strikes, the number to call in Viriden is 800-222-3371. Just ask for Art. The full name is Art Proefrock, manager of the Hazardous Materials team for Hulcher Emergency Railroad Service. And the men who run the nation's railroads say he's the best in the business.

Youngstown, Fla., on a windy Sunday night in February is a case in point. "Billowing clouds of chlorine fog mixing with leaking propane gas could touch off an explosion that would turn a 115-car derailed freight train into a chain of fire," television newscasters across the nation reported.

"Eight persons have died and at least 45 have been hospitalized. A wind shift sending deadly gas across country has forced local officials to evacuate about 1,000 persons in a five-mile radius of the wreck."

Almost immediately, the emergency dispatcher at Hulcher's was contacted. The dispatcher phoned Proefrock. "I was working that propane tank car explosion in Waverly, Tenn., when the Youngstown call came in," Proefrock relayed over a cup of coffee in his Thayer office. Hulcher headquarters is in Viriden, but the Hazardous Materials team is stationed in Thayer, a farm town of about 650 persons.

HazMat shares the whitewashed, concrete brick building with Hulcher's Cut Up Division for cars too badly damaged to retail and the Load Transfer Division.

reputation has grown accordingly in that time. He's not quite in Red Adair's class yet. After all, John Wayne doesn't play just anybody.

But a wall covered with newspaper clippings that recount the team's exploits is a step in the right direction. And a few more disasters like Youngstown and Waverly might give the team celebrity status.

"Better get your story in the paper quick," Proefrock says, smiling. "ABC Television is going to do a big special on us."

"They're just waiting for a good wreck."

BREAK INTO OFFICE A $200 air conditioning unit was stolen from the swimming pool office at Wilson Park. It was discovered Thursday. There are signs of forced entry to the building.

PROBATION IN BURGLARY Circuit Judge Harold R. Clark has sentenced James A. Foster, 17, of 1837 Sken St., Madison, to serve two years of probation after Foster pleaded guilty to a Jan. 24 burglary.

Sentenced to nine months

Gary M. Webster, 25, of Rural Route One, Box 1824, Granite City, who was shot by Granite City police April 22 while allegedly fleeing from a house burglary, has pleaded guilty to burglary and been sentenced by Circuit Judge Harold R. Clark. Webster was sentenced to serve one year of probation and nine months in prison. Judge Clark stipulated that time already served in jail would count toward the prison sentence.

Webster allegedly came out of the home of Rodney Chism, 88 Briarwood Drive, through a side door as a Granite City patrolman jumped over the rear fence. The officer alleged the suspect refused three orders to halt and then was shot in the right thigh.

90 days in jail on forgery charge

Margaret Ann Green, 22, Florissant, Mo., has been sentenced by Circuit Judge Joseph J. Barr in Madison County Circuit Court to serve two years of probation and 90 days in the Madison County Jail.

She pleaded guilty to forgery Feb. 22 at Schnuck's Market in Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center for allegedly attempting to cash a forged $25 check. The check was on the store's stolen check list, so employees held her until police arrived, it was alleged.

LEARNING BY DOING. Four students of the Vocational Child Care program of the home economic department of Granite City High School last week decorated a float and participated in the Shriner's parade. The students are in charge of and plan all activities during the pre-school sessions. During the fall semester, two similar pre-schools will be operated three days a week. Children 2 to 4 years old are needed for the new program. Interested parents may contact Miss Cheryl Gertsch or Mrs. Jean Nelson through the high school for more information.

CHILD-CARE PROGRAM. Lisa Waltenberger, a junior at Granite City High School, assists Kara Andrews in the making of clay "hot dogs" during the last two-hour session of a child care program of the home economics department. A cooperative program was set up between the high school and Niedringhaus School to allow the students to work with the elementary teachers twice-a-week for an eight-week period. The students studied and worked with the children for practical experience in child care. A pre-school also was established at the school for a two-hour period daily to further the students' work with children.

Tri-City sweeps Kankakee, earns split with Glenwood

By DOUG IRVIN
For the Press-Record
League games start tomorrow for Tri-City Post 113. Tri-City was 3-1 on the weekend, defeating Kankakee Illinois twice on Saturday, 5-4 and 5-1, and splitting with Glenwood 5-6 and 4-5 on Sunday. Of the nine games already played, Tri-City has averaged five runs a game and has a 4-5 record just under the 500 mark.

The first game of the Kankakee doubleheader Saturday was won in the seventh inning, a five run inning for Tri-City. Prior to entering the seventh, Post 113 was down 4-0.

Mike "Boobie" Clark led off the inning with a single to left and went to second on the left fielder's error. Randy Smith got an infield hit and Jeff Parker loaded the bases with an infield error. On a sacrifice to center by Tom Henrich, Clark scored.

Blake "Hondo" Ambuehl walked to reload the bases and Keith Champion received a base on balls to walk in Smith. LARRY HEAVY pinch hit and got a hit to score both Parker and Ambuehl and to the score. With the winning run on third, the pitcher, Jeff Tretter singled to allow Champion to score, 5-4, game.

Tretter pitched the full seven innings, striking out two and walking two batters. Tretter's record is now 2-0 in pitching. Doug Rains pitched the first five innings in the second Kankakee game, where he got a win out of the first game he pitched this season. Rains allowed five hits, four walks, and struck out four batters. Al Yount relieved Rains and finished the game giving up only one hit.

AGAIN Tri-City possessed a five run inning, this time it was the third. Parker walked as did Henrich to lead off the big inning. Clark attempted a sacrifice bunt; but had to settle for the bases loaded with him on first (the fielder misplayed it). Champion singled to left, which drove in Parker. Henrich scored on the wild pitch. Rains walked to reload the bases. Joe Parente got a two-run base hit; Clark and Champion scored. Rains crossed on a wild pitch making the score 5-1.

Extra innings spelled defeat as Tri-City lost the first game in eight frames, 6-5. Glenwood Post 759 tied the score in the seventh and scored one more in the eighth to win.

Mike DeGonia pitched seven innings for Tri-City obtaining his third loss of the season. Young pitched the eighth frame of the game.

Tri-City's runs came in the first, fourth, and fifth innings.

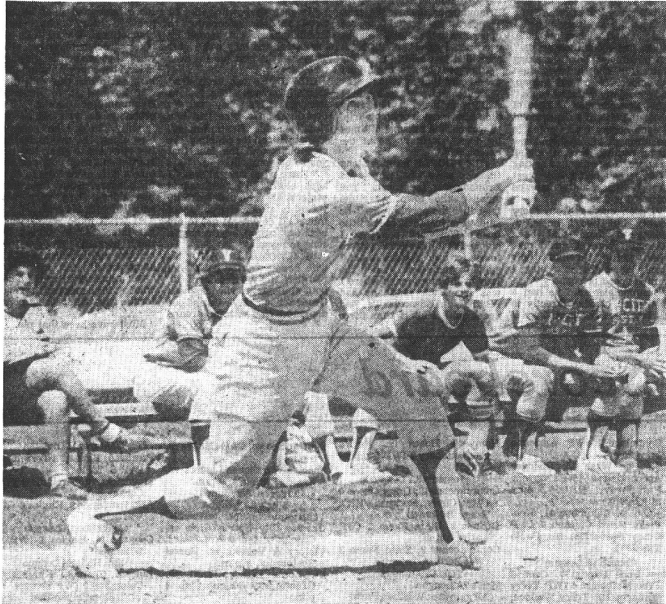

Champion walked and stole second to lead off the first inning. John Krevovich hit one back to the pitcher, who erred, allowing Champion to score.

In the fourth, Parente led off with a beautiful bunt towards third base which put him on first base. Henrich walked and Ambuehl singled to load the bases. Krevovich hit up the middle to score both Parente and Henrich. Clark sacrificed to left to score Ambuehl.

Tri-City's final run came in the fifth. Smith singled to center and went to second on a sacrifice bunt by Schaus. Parente doubled and Smith scored. Tri-City had one hit and no runs in the last three innings when Glenwood came back to win.

ON SEVEN HITS and again five runs, Post 113 won the other half of the Glenwood double.

Sprint cars earn weekly slate

Crowd reaction to a sprint car race Saturday night at Tri-City Speedway led track promoter Jim Moughan to announce he is scheduling the sprint cars weekly for the remainder of the season.

Twenty-three sprint cars competed for honors during the tripeheader race program Saturday night, which included the late-model stock cars and sportsman racers.

Ken Schrader, Kirkwood, Mo., who had been finishing second in his events all night, worked his way into the lead in the sprint car feature race and captured victory from Tony Robertson of Shelbyville and Cliff Powell of Hannibal, Mo., who finished second and third, respectively.

Schrader finished second behind Robertson in the first heat race and Phil Howe of Jacksonville won the third heat, swinging past Dale Reisinger of Farmington, Mo., on the final turn to win by inches.

In the semi-feature race, Dave Fosse of Decatur held off a lengthy challenge by Tom Georges of Springfield to win the event. Dean Shirley of Middletown, Ill., appeared headed for certain victory with a lengthy lead until the 12th lap, when his car lost power suddenly and he turned into the pits.

Ken Schrum of St. Charles, Mo., defeated Bucky Beasley of Ellisville, Mo., in the late-model feature race, with C.C. Corbin of East Alton finishing third. Beasley and Schrum also won their heat races.

Harold Bryans won the sportsman feature, despite a comeback effort by Granite Cityan Les Gibson. Gibson led the feature for several laps, and then spun and had to go to the back of the pack.

H quickly drove through the pack again to finish second, being unable to catch Bryans. Mike Nikonovich of Granite City finished third.

In Inter-City Baseball

Mercer explodes for 22, takes two from Mitchell

Mercer, used an 11-run outburst in the fourth inning of its second game with Mitchell yesterday to take a 22-5 decision and a sweep of the twinned, having won the first game 7-5, to highlight yesterday's action in the Illinois Inter-City Baseball League.

In other action, Thomas of East Alton lost both games of its doubleheader with Music Room, 12-1 and 8-2. Collinsville dropped two games to league-leading Highland-Pierson, 6-2 and 4-2 and Wood River pounded hapless East Alton by scores of 13-2 and 13-1. Maryville had a bye for the weekend.

Mercer 22, Mitchell 5
Mercer grabbed a 5-3 lead in the first inning and never looked back.

In the first inning Mercer's Jack Scarborough singled leading off and went to third on Pat Peterson's base hit. Jim Greenwald's double sent both runners home. Eldon Warfield reached base on a fielder's choice, followed by a three-run homer by Jeff Scarborough to cap off the inning.

MITCHELL came back with three runs of its own in the bottom of the first. Granite Cityan Mike Martinez reached base on a single and went to second when Rick Hawks walked. Both runners scored on Bill Stolle's three-run homer. Mercer came back in the second inning to score a single when Jack Scarborough reached base on an error and went to third on Peterson's single. Greenwald hit a flyball to right-center that was deep enough to score Scarborough on the sacrifice.

Mercer 22, Mitchell 5
Jerry Logan went all the way for Mercer in this one, holding Mitchell to eight hits. But the real store of the game was the hitting of his teammates. Mercers pounded out 19 hits enroute to its sixth victory of the season.

Going into the top of the fourth with a 4-2 lead, Mercers exploded for 11 runs in the inning to break the game wide open.

In the second, Eldon Warfield doubled leading off, followed by John Lukins RBI single.

Mitchell came back in its half of the second with a run of its own, courtesy of a Brian Sykes home run.

JEFF SCARBOROUGH's two-run homer in the third inning gave Mercer a lift, but that was countered in the bottom of the inning by Rick Hawks single which scored Rick Schmidt to narrow the lead to 4-2. That paved the way for the explosion.

The 11-run fourth inning for Mercer's was highlighted by doubles by Pat Peterson and Dave Schanke, a two-run single by Peterson (batting for the second time in the inning), and a three-run homer by Greenwald.

TRAILING 11-2, Mitchell tried to mount a mild comeback in the fourth and fifth innings.

In the fourth, Bill Stolle doubled and scored on Brian Sykes single. In the fifth, Kovarik reached base on an error. Rick Hawks walked and both runners scored on Stolle's double. But it was too little to late.

The fifth inning for Mercer was almost as noisy as the fourth had been, just not as many runs resulted. The highlight of the inning was a grand-slam home run by catcher Dave Schanke.

Music Room 12, Thomas 1

A seven-run sixth inning by Music Room in this game destroyed all hopes Thomas might have had of a comeback.

Music Room grabbed a 4-0 lead going into the bottom of the fourth inning, when Thomas brought a run home to narrow the margin to 4-1.

In the fourth inning, Mike Juravich for Thomas, moved to second base on a fielder's choice and scored on a base hit went all the way on the mound, striking out eight Thomas batters in the process.

Music Room 8, Thomas 2
Thomas pounded out nine hits in this game, but couldn't find the right combinations of hits to overcome Music Room's 5-0 lead after two innings.

Thomas scored single tallies in the third and sixth innings, while Music Room added three more runs to its lead in the fourth.

Milton Worthen took the loss on the mound for Thomas, while Bob Buttry took the win for Music Room.

SIUE signs former area cager

Victor Dozier, a 6'5", 200-pound native of East St. Louis, has signed a letter of intent to enroll this fall at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, it has been announced by Jim Dudley, the Cougars' head basketball coach.

Dozier, a 20-year-old who played two years of junior college basketball in Coffeyville, Kan., will join a former high school teammate, Bennie Lewis. He and Lewis played together at East St. Louis Lincoln High under the coaching of Lewis' father, Bennie Lewis Sr.

"Dozier is an excellent jumper who will definitely strengthen our front line," Coach Dudley said. "He has a very good shooting touch with the ability to be a fine scorer. He will be used as a post and wing player in our offense."

While at Lincoln High, Dozier led the entire St. Louis metropolitan area his senior year in rebounding. He averaged 12 cars per game, while pouring in 10 points per game over a three-year career beginning round in April. The timetable will be as follows:

UNDER 10 years of age:
Saturday, June 17
2:30 p.m. — Quincy Celtics vs. Northbrook Boosters

4:00 p.m. — MacDonalds S.C., Granite City vs. Park Ridge

Saturday, June 17
2:30 p.m. — Wood River Stars vs. Northbrook Boosters

4:00 p.m. — Sharkeys S.C., Quincy vs. Chicago Kickers Association and the Chatham Youth Soccer Club.

The event will feature two local teams and one from Wood River. The McDonald's team from Granite City will be entered in the 10-years and under division, and the Wood River Stars will compete in the 14-years and under division.

The 16 teams who have reached the final stages are all that's left from more than 100 teams which were in at the

with the variety. At Coffeyville, under the coaching of Gene Duke, former coach at Olney (Ill.) Central College, Dozier's output in both scoring and rebounding was considerably reduced but he hit for a good average from the field: 49 percent his frosh season and 47 percent last year, his sophomore year.

With the signing of Dozier, Dudley is very optimistic about his Cougars' prospects next year. Also signed by Dudley as a trio of outstanding junior college transfers. They are: 6'8", 225-pound Ron (Too Tall) Jones; 6'5", 195-pound Larry Brown; and 6'3", 190-pound Jerome (Baby) Jay Nelson.

Jones comes to SIUE for Lake Land Junior College by way of his native Middletown, Ohio. Brown, who played his prep basketball at Chicago's Harper High, starred the past two seasons at Kankakee Junior College. Nelson averaged 17 points a game in the two years he played for the Danville Junior College squad.

Dudley's optimism for the 1978-79 season is further bolstered by the return of not only Bennie Lewis but his ace, dead-eye shooting guard, Johnston City's Keil Peebles. In addition, Dudley has another pair of seasoned taller players in Jim Allen (6'9") and Bill Branz, a rugged 6'8" postman.

Mike Waddell and Jeff Verstraete, who played well for the Cougars in both relief and as starters, will be back, as will St. Louisan Wardell Carter. Carter was used by Dudley primarily in a fireman's role although he did gain several starting assignments late in the season.

Another quintet of first-year players returning who are sure to give someone a run for the money for a starter's berth are: Denton Brasel, Al McCarron, Kevin Pawlowski, Neal Peebles and Steve Scobbe.

Panther Pant July 22

CHARLESTON — Entry blank applications are now available to compete in the 13th annual Panther Pant, a 12½ mile (20 kilometer) road race at Eastern Illinois University Saturday, July 22, said Tom Woodall, Panther Pant director. Application blanks can be picked up at his office in Eastern's Lantz Gym or by contacting him by telephone at St. Louis (317-581-2200) or home (345-4109). The entry fee is $3. All entries must be postmarked no later than midnight, July 15. The race is open to anyone over 14 years of age, and will begin at 7 p.m. on Charleston's South Fourth Street Road. The course will wind south to the Moore House and return via the same route finishing near the starting point.

The top 20 will receive awards. Approximately 160 runners are expected to enter. The course record is one hour, three minutes and 44 seconds set by Dr. Robert Pitts of St. Louis. Last year's winner was a member of Eastern's cross country and track team, Joe Sheeran, who fell just one second short of a new record.

Twins to hold trout camp

The Minnesota Twins Baseball Club will hold its annual trout camp at Blanche Park in St. Charles, Mo. on June 22, 23 and 24. Sessions will begin at 9:30 a.m. each day. Bill Messmann, Area Scouting Supervisor for the Twins, will be in charge and everyone will get a thorough opportunity to show his ability. Players ages 10 to 21 years of age are invited and are requested to bring shoes, glove and uniform.

GRANITE CITY — It's vacation time again. People all over America are making plans on how they're going to spend that one luxurious week this summer when they're not hassled by the problems of the work-a-day world. No alarm clocks, no bus stops, just relaxation.

Some will pile into their station wagons and go to their favorite vacation spot. Some will stay at home and enjoy their time off. Very few will spend their vacations as Granite City Ken Braundmeier recently did. He took a week of his vacation time to ride a bicycle from here to Chicago, . . . and he did it in four days.

Braundmeier, 34, left Granite City on Saturday, June 3 and arrived in the Windy City on Tuesday, June 6, some four days and 340 miles from Granite City.

"IT'S SOMETHING I've wanted to do for about three or four years," said Braundmeier. "I started bicycling seriously about four years ago and have liked the idea of taking a long trip. But before this one, the farther I'd ever gone was to Alton and back."

Granite City Ken Braundmeier did a lot of it on a four-day bicycle trip to Chicago

His first day out on the road, Braundmeier did what few bicyclists do, especially those who travel alone. He traveled 100 miles. He joined the "Century-Ride Club."

"I GOT AS FAR as Springfield that first day," he said. "Originally, I'd planned to only go about 50 or 70 miles the first day. But when I got that far, there weren't any decent-looking motels to stay in, so I decided to go on to Springfield."

Braundmeier's trek took him along Illinois Route 4 to Springfield. From there, he traveled along Route 20 to Pekin, took Route 89 to LaSalle, Peru and Routes 6 and 71 into Chicago.

"I tried to pick roads on the map which didn't appear to be very big or ones that were traveling through their heads."

"Mostly they were state routes, though I did get off my original route in a few of the more country roads once in a while."

BRAUNDEMEIER, an employee at McDonnell-Douglas in St. Louis, said his friends at first had mixed reactions when he announced he was taking a week's vacation to ride a bicycle to Chicago.

"MOST OF THEM said I was a little crazy," he said. "Some of them did say they hoped I made it and wished me luck. Others just shook their heads."

Braundmeier began making plans for the journey last November. "I got out a map, and picked my tentative route," he said.

"Then I wrote the sheriff's department of each county I was going to pass through, letting them know I'd be coming through, giving an approximate date and asking if there was a better way to get through their county than the route I'd picked."

"I got responses from every county but two," he said. "Many of them sent back alternate routes I could take when going through their county, depending on whether I wanted speed or scenery."

Braundmeier said he had a north-wind blowing directly in his face the first three days of his trip. "It got to be a little hard to pedal at times," he said. "But the last day I had the wind at my back and it helped quite a bit."

ALL IN ALL, the weather was very cooperative with Braundmeier during the trip. Temperatures ranged from the upper 70's to the low 80's and he was not fatigued when he arrived in Chicago.

"I was chased a couple of times by dogs, but that's about the extent of it."

THE PEOPLE he met along the way were what impressed Braundmeier the most. "The smaller the town was, the friendlier the people were," he said. "For instance, in the little town of Washburn (pop. 1,700), I stopped at a little grocery store to ask a good place to eat."

"I was surprised," he said, "that the lady at the store where I was from, said she had relatives in Edwardsville, had spent quite a bit of time there

Highland-Pierron rode the 3-5 performance of Steve Weirs at the plate in this one. He drove in three of the four runs the team collected, as they swept the doubleheader from the team which had earlier in the season handed them their only defeat of the season.

Wood River 13, East Alton 2

Jeff Donahue was only 3-10 at the plate on the day for Wood River, but he made good enough for six runs batted-in in this game, to highlight Wood River's romp over winless East Alton.

Wood River 13, East Alton 2

Kelly Boyd blasted a three-run homer in the seventh inning of the second game, had four runs batted-in in the game and helped lead Wood River to the doubleheader sweep.

A RAINED OUT game earlier in the season will be made up this Wednesday (June 14) when Mercer visits Maryville in a 6 p.m. doubleheader.

Tri-City sweeps

Yount pitched the entire game allowing six hits, one walk, and sent five back to the bench. The final score was 5-2 with both of Glenwood's runs being unearned.

In the second inning, Clark walked and stole a second. Parker got a base hit to right center — Clark scored. Henrich in the next inning, singled and stole second base, and went to third on a sacrifice by Ambuehl. Clark powered home over the left field fence, about 300 feet, to give Tri-City four runs.

In the sixth, Parker got on with an infield error and scored on a hit by Heagy. Krekovich was two for two for the game with a single and a double.

FOUR LEAGUE GAMES are scheduled for the next four nights starting with Alton, there, Tuesday (on Wednesday, Tri-City hosts Highland on the South field, on Thursday, O'Fallon hosts Tri-City, and on Friday night at the South diamond, Glen Carbon is hosted by the team from the Tri-Cities. All four games are scheduled for 6 p.m.

About 100 youngsters competed Saturday in the Granite City "Junior Sports Jamboree" at the Granite City High School South athletic field.

Winners of the individual events will advance to the regional sports meet, also scheduled at the South High campus on Saturday, June 24, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Those successful at the regional level will be eligible to compete at the Illinois Jaycees Junior Sports Jamboree, set for August at Champaign, according to Dan Poston, local meet chairman.

The youngsters are divided into four age levels — bantams, nine years and under, midlets, 10 and 11 years, juniors, 12 and 13 years, and seniors, 14 and 15 years old.

Events include 50 and 100 yard dashes, long and high jumps, baseball throw, 40 and 80 yard runs and a one-mile run. Not all events are open in the different age groups.

First-place winners, their division and event at the meet here Saturday were:

Bantam: 50 and 100 yard dashes (two events), Chad Carpenter and Anna Skinner; baseball throw, Jeff Tindall and Kim Armour; long jump, Paul Wasyk and Michelle Stevenson.

Midlet: 50 yard dash, Jess Zukas and Chrissy Jones; 100 yard, Mike Robertson; baseball throw, Dan Armour and Chrissy Jones; long jump, Mike Robertson; high jump, Tony Watson; 400 run, Chuck Hagy.

Juniors: 100 yard dash, Rick Monphard and Leslie Armour; baseball throw, Rick Dalley and Mary McElroy; 440 run, Rick Monphard and Pat Skinner; long jump, Ron Rowden and Pat Skinner; high jump, Rick Dalley and Lenny Crone.

Seniors: 100 yard dash, Dave Niemeyer and Clara Bates; mile run, Bruce DeBlunt; high jump, Dan Kelly; long jump, Dave Niemeyer and Clara Bates.

Charlotte Charbonnier, physical education instructor at South High, and several South students assisted the Jaycees in officiating at the sports jamboree.

At the awards ceremony after the dinner all participants will receive personalized etched wine glasses. In addition, awards will be presented to the winners and runners-up of the various mini-tournaments slated as a part of the day-long activities.

All area tennis enthusiasts are welcome and encouraged to enter. A fee of $30 per couple and/or $20 per person will cover awards, gifts and the dinner. Proceeds will go to the SIUE Foundation and the tennis programs, both men and women's varsities, at SIUE.

Coach Kent DeMars' varsity won the NCAA division II national team championship held in May in the tournament held at San Diego. The Cougars' Number one singles player, sophomore Juan Farrow, successfully defended his national singles crown at San Diego. Coach Bob Gamble's SIUE women's varsity also posted a winning 1978 season.

All levels of tennis talent are welcome to participate. Non-tennis players are welcome to take part in the evening festivities, including the cocktail hour and dinner. The cost per person: $12.50.

Anyone in the Granite City area interested should contact the mini hostesses in this area. They are Mary Jane Hillner 876-2681 and Mary Tranj 452-3360.

The Coalition for Political Honesty is circulating petitions to put a proposition calling for a property tax freeze on the property taxes on the November ballot in Illinois as a voters' advisory referendum.

The property tax freeze referendum will ask whether the General Assembly should limit property taxes until the property tax system is reformed, both by providing refunds to homeowners and renters who pay more than 3½ percent of their income in property taxes and by establishing a citizen initiative for further tax reform.

"We believe Illinois voters should have a direct ballot opportunity to participate in the property tax system, and against property taxes and assessments," said Patrick Quinn, Coalition leader.

"Illinois homeowners and renters are being crushed by a property tax overload which is taking a larger and larger share of their income every year."

Participation to all local residents who enjoy singing, the director said.

Those interested are invited to attend rehearsal sessions, held Monday and Thursday from 1 p.m. to 2 p.m. for children and from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. for adults and high school youth.

Other concerns during the 1978 season will take place June 27, July 11 and July 25. All are on Tuesday evenings, starting at 8 o'clock.

"It's a Grand Night for Singing," "Do-Re-Mi," "Blowin' in the Wind," "Pick a Bale of Cotton," "Yesterday," "Swing, Chariot," and "Whistle a Happy Tune."

A special segment of the production will include an audience sing-along of standard favorites, Mrs. Bright said.

A $200 stereo, a $200 color television set and three $1 bills were stolen from the home of Gary Glenn, 5609 Cayuga St., last week. Entry was believed gained by removing a window screen and climbing through a window.

Motocross races scheduled

ST. LOUIS — One hundred and eighty of the finest motocross riders in America will be competing for the $150,000 Mr. Pibb 250-500cc National Championship Series.

Purse on Sunday, June 18th. Races will be held at Cyclo World, U.S.A. in St. Peters, Mo., beginning at 1 p.m.

For the first time in St. Louis, the top motocross riders are here to this summer's AMA Double National Championship Series — the 250cc national and the 500cc national.

The riders are headed by "Hurricane" Bob Hannah, current supercross champion and winner of 23 of the 35 championship races he's entered this year; Marty Smith, 1977 500cc champion; Kent Blount, 1977 250cc champion; and others.

The Cycle-World track was voted the best in the country last year. Lengthened to a mile and a half, with the challenging hills made more challenging.

The track is a motocross spectator's paradise. "Hurricane" named for Bob Hannah, is a gradually declining hill 135 feet in length that ends by having the riders jump three smaller hills on the back straightaway. As the riders get their bikes up to about 85 miles-an-hour on the back straightaway, they fly off the hills 100 to 150 feet, to see through the air. Spectators can stand next to the track if they like, or find a comfortable spot on a shady hillside and have an overall view of the jumps, straightaways, hills and water hazards.

Qualifying begins at 11 a.m. and racing at 1 p.m. Advance tickets are available at Community Federal, Famous-Barr, and area motorcycle dealers — adults $7 and children $3.50. Gate prices are adults $8, children $4. Cyclo World, U.S.A. is located about four miles west of St. Charles off Interstate 70. Take the Cave Springs Exit, then go west on the North Outer Road to the track.

Added attractions include skydiving by the St. Louis Parachute Club. Refreshments and food will be available.

The Coalition for Political Honesty is circulating petitions to put a proposition calling for a property tax freeze on the property taxes on the November ballot in Illinois as a voters' advisory referendum.

The property tax freeze referendum will ask whether the General Assembly should limit property taxes until the property tax system is reformed, both by providing refunds to homeowners and renters who pay more than 3½ percent of their income in property taxes and by establishing a citizen initiative for further tax reform.

"We believe Illinois voters should have a direct ballot opportunity to participate in the property tax system, and against property taxes and assessments," said Patrick Quinn, Coalition leader.

"Illinois homeowners and renters are being crushed by a property tax overload which is taking a larger and larger share of their income every year."

Participation to all local residents who enjoy singing, the director said.

Those interested are invited to attend rehearsal sessions, held Monday and Thursday from 1 p.m. to 2 p.m. for children and from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. for adults and high school youth.

Other concerns during the 1978 season will take place June 27, July 11 and July 25. All are on Tuesday evenings, starting at 8 o'clock.

Smith division set to expand in Southeast

The Electric Motor Division of A. O. Smith Corporation has reached a tentative agreement to purchase a 200,000-square-foot plant near Mebane, N.C., in a major expansion of its manufacturing facilities.

John R. Parker, A. O. Smith president, said that if a few remaining contingencies can be resolved, A. O. Smith will convert the plant for the production of fractional horsepower electric motors, principally for the air-conditioning industry.

Smith's Electric Motor Division is one of the nation's leading producers of hermetic and fractional horsepower motors used in air-conditioning and refrigeration systems. It is the country's largest maker of pump motors used in water systems and swimming pools.

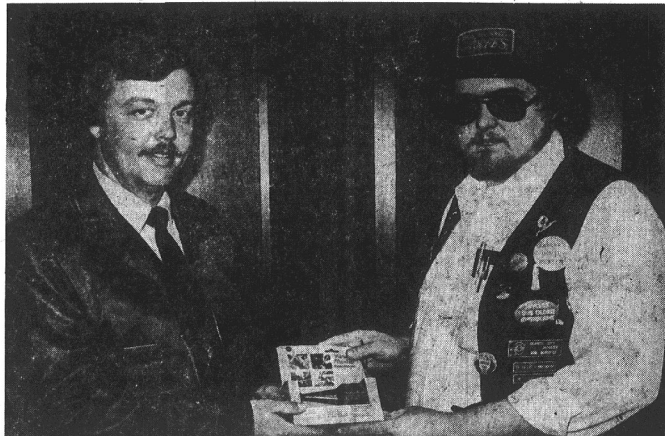

The new plant near Mebane, will be purchased from the Dow-Badische Co. and had been used for production of textured yarn.

Smith first entered the electric motor business in 1940 with the acquisition of Sawyer Electrical Manufacturing Co. of Los Angeles. It acquired Whirl-A-Way Motors in Tipp City, Ohio, in 1950 and at the same time began construction on its headquarters plant there. A second manufacturing plant at Mt. Sterling, Ky. was constructed in 1964 and a plant in Bray, Ireland, was opened in 1976. The division employs 2,500 persons worldwide. Sales in 1977 were $85 million, up from $75 million in 1976.

A. O. Smith, headquartered in Milwaukee, is one of the nation's largest industrial companies (287th on the Fortune magazine list) with sales in 1977 of $727 million.

The company is the world's largest manufacturer of automobile and truck frames, operating a major frame plant in Granite City. A. O. Smith is the nation's largest producer of fiber glass reinforced plastic pipe, and the major manufacturer of automated animal feed processing and storage systems.

It also is one of the top U.S. producers of residential and commercial water heaters.

GIFT TO FIGHT CRIME. The Granite City Jaycees have donated 12 electric marking pens to Granite City's "Officer Friendly" Fred Hoffman, left, to be used in the police department's "Operation Identification" program. The pens may be borrowed by individuals to engrave valuables with driver's license numbers.

If the valuables then are stolen and recovered, the numbers will aid police in identifying the owners. The pens also will be used during a citywide bicycle registration program June 24 at McDonald's Restaurant. At right is Bob Burgess, external vice-president of the Jaycees.

Honor local Area College students

Many local students have been named to the dean's list at Belleville Area College for the spring semester.

To achieve "high honors," a student must maintain at least a 3.5 grade point average on the college's 4.0 system. "Honors" requires a GPA of at least 3.0. Those named to high honors included William Briggs, John Holbrook, Lawrence Holder, Shirley Mahoney, Sharon O'Beir, Michael Orr, Kathleen Rutz, Michael Spaskos, Karla Trebing, Nancy Weeks and Wanda Wuehler, all of Granite City.

Receiving honors were Marjorie Ash, Rebecca Bailey,

Conference on activity by the aged

The Gerontology Program at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will offer a one-day conference on reality orientation and reminotivation therapy, according to Anthony Traxler, director (682-3451).

Designed for professionals and paraprofessionals working with the disabled and aging, the conference is scheduled for Monday, June 19, from 8:45 a.m. until 3:30 p.m. in the Mississippi-Illinois Rooms of the University Center.

Registration for the conference is $12.50 and covers the cost of a luncheon.

Registration will be limited to 50 participants, and applicants will be accepted on a first-come, first-served basis.

Keynote speaker will be Mary Ann Travis, activities program consultant for Nursing Home Managers, Inc., in Springfield. She received her master of arts degree in gerontology-service delivery from Sangamon State University and is a registered therapeutic recreation leader.

For the past three years, she has served as a consultant to the activity-rehabilitation programs of 12 nursing homes in downstate Illinois area and is the coordinator and instructor of monthly continuing education workshops for these programs.

Topics to be covered during the workshop include sensory loss in older adults, sensory deprivation in institutions, stress of social and physical losses, reality orientation and reminotivation.

Home ransacked

The home of Cindy Roethemeyer, 2210 E. 24th St., was broken into and a bedroom ransacked last week.

The victim first got a threatening telephone call from a man who said he was going to blow her house up. She left the home as a safety precaution and returned to find a screen pushed in, a window opened and the bedroom ransacked.

The cover over a ceiling lighting fixture had been removed and the bulb taken out of the light. Missing are savings bonds, checks and shotguns, she told police.

More the Merrier plans potluck

William Quinn was welcomed as a new member of the More the Merrier Senior Citizens Club at its meeting Thursday afternoon at the Granite City Township Building.

Two guests also attended the event, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Cox.

Mrs. Grace Paddock, president, was in charge of the business session which opened with the pledge to the flag and the Lord's Prayer led by Mrs. Juanita Crawley.

Mrs. Della Raub gave the financial report and Mrs. Crawley read the minutes from a previous meeting.

A sympathy card was sent to club member Mrs. Jennie Moody, whose husband Dewey Moody, recently died, and a get well card was signed for Joe Stanton.

Birthday congratulations were offered to Mrs. Velma Spurrier and Lennie Crookrell and the group sang a song in their honor.

Plans were made to hold a potluck dinner at 1:30 p.m. Thursday, June 22, at the township center. Mrs. Crawley was in charge of making spaghetti at the last dinner, it was reported.

Coffee and cake were served to conclude the business meeting.

Film recalls surviving air crash

"He Restored My Soul," a new film by Gospel Films, Inc. of Muskegon, Mich., will be shown at 7 p.m. Wednesday at Mount Zion General Baptist Church, 21st and Benton streets.

The Rev. Donald Clark, pastor, said the public is invited to view the film. Admission is free.

The movie focuses on the experiences of Merrill Womach, whose voice range covers more than four octaves and thrills audiences whenever he appears, the local pastor said.

In 1961, Womach was flying alone enroute to Spokane, Wash., when his twin engine plane was forced down in a snow storm in Beaver Marsh, Ore.

Taking off on a slushy runway next day, both engines on the plane failed and, in trying to return to the airport, he crashed into timber and the plane exploded.

Critically burned in the explosion of 108 gallons of high test fuel, Womach crawled to a nearby road and was picked up by a motorist and taken to the Klamath Falls, Ore. hospital. Amazingly he sang all the way.

Through 50 operations and months of hospitalization Womach faced impending death and complications, including blood clots passing through his heart into the lungs. It was only after his family heard him sing again that they knew he had survived, the Rev. Clark explained.

This is a filmed true story, the minister said.

TO MARRY: Miss Diana Marie Bourisaw, who will become the bride of Steven Ray Cantonwine of Keokuk, Iowa, in August. Their engagement is being announced by the bride-to-be's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David L. Bourisaw of Florissant, Mo., formerly of Granite City.

Miss Diana Bourisaw is engaged

The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Diana Marie Bourisaw and Steven Ray Cantonwine of Keokuk, Iowa, are being announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David L. Bourisaw, 3235 Classic Drive, Florissant, Mo., formerly of Granite City.

Miss Bourisaw graduated from North East Missouri State University at Kirksville with a bachelor of science degree in psychology and Special Education.

She will receive a master's degree in Secondary Education for the Emotionally Disturbed from North East Missouri State in August. She is a member of Sigma Kappa Sorority.

The bride-to-be attended a local elementary school and graduated from McCluer North High School, St. Louis. She just completed her first year of teaching emotionally disturbed students at Keokuk (Iowa) High School.

Her fiancé is the son of Mrs. Phana Shockley Foss of Mount Pleasant, Iowa, and Steven Cantonwine of Kansas City, Mo. He attended the University of Iowa in Iowa City and currently is employed by Montgomery Ward Co. in Keokuk, Iowa.

The prospective groom is an active leader in the Boy Scouts. The couple is completing plans for an Aug. 25 wedding at the St. Louis King of France Basilica (Old Cathedral).

Navy Mothers donate

Quad-Cities Navy Mothers Club 850 authorized donors to four service-oriented facilities at its business meeting Thursday evening at the VFW Hall in Granite City.

Gift checks for $25 each were sent to the John Cochran Veterans Hospital, St. Louis, Danville (Ill.) Veterans Hospital, Great Lakes Naval Hospital, Great Lakes, Ill., and the Philadelphia (Pa.) Hostess House.

Commander Della Miller was in charge of the business session.

Plans were made to hold a social evening at the VFW Hall on Thursday, June 22.

The mystery package was awarded to Mrs. Della Habb and Mrs. Edna Miller won a special prize.

Sixteen members attended the event.

Gordon Lloyds earn degrees

Gordon Louis "Skip" Lloyd, a son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Lloyd of Granite City, graduated June 2 in the 141st and largest graduating class of Southern Baptist Seminary at Louisville, Ky.

Lloyd and his wife, Katherine, both received master's degrees in the commencement exercises. The former resident is a graduate of Granite City High School South and Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The commencement speaker, who also has a son and daughter-in-law in the graduating class, was Howard C. Kaufmann, president of Exxon Corp.

Following a trip to Ridgecrest, N.C., Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd will reside in Alabama where he has accepted the position of minister of education and youth at the First Baptist Church of Jacksonville, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd, parents of the graduate, were in Louisville for the graduation week where they attended receptions, banquets and ceremonies. Immediately following the exercises the parents of the young couple co-hosted an open house reception in Fuller Hall.

Graduation party for Dan Fichte

A gala decorated patio was the scene of a party last week, honoring Dan Fichte, who graduated from Granite City High School South.

The affair was given by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Fichte, at their home, 1540 Rodger Ave.

Among the guests were the honoree's brother, Bob Fichte, his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Scaturro of Venice and Mr. and Mrs. Richard McCulla of Troy; and his godparents, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Wein and daughter, Denise.

Frey-Tharp betrothal told

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Tharp, 2333 St. Bernard Ave., are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Rhonda Jeanne, to Marshall Robert Frey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Frey Jr., of Edwardsville.

The bride-elect is a 1974 graduate of Granite City High School South and Western Illinois University at Macomb.

She recently received a bachelor of science degree in political science and in law enforcement administration from Western.

Honor Circle has luncheon

The Honor Circle met for its regular meeting last week in the Niedringhaus United Methodist Church. Members engaged in quilting and then adjourned to Roderick's Restaurant for their annual luncheon. After the lunch they returned to the church for business meeting and more quilting.

Laue Weaver presided at the afternoon session. The devotions and lesson were given by Augusta Pender. Her subject was by Norman Vincent Peale, "You Can Make Things Go Good." The prayer was from 4th Chapter Psalms. The members reported 26 calls were made during May.

Besides those mentioned, members present were, Beulah Fox, Eva Evans, Edith Elbertson, Ida Cox, Pearl Campbell, Winifred Reimers and two guests, Rev. and Mrs. Mathae.

The September meeting will be held at the church parsonage.

Attend state DAV meeting

The 56th annual department of Illinois DAV convention was held at Ramada Inn in Elgin, Ill., last week.

Auxiliary members attending from this area were: Lena Kalips, unit commander, Pat Mache, executive committee woman; Wilma Dertich, incoming '78-79 executive committee woman; and Ruth Nunes, unit treasurer.

Mrs. Nunes was elected department judge advocate for the coming year.

Chapter members attending were: Robert Douglas, Mr. and Mrs. Mack McGuire, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Gitchett, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Heffley, Chapter Commander Robert Kennerly and Charles Rittenberger.

Her fiancé earned a bachelor of science degree in law enforcement administration from Western Illinois University and an associate degree in the same major from Lewis and Clark Community College, Godfrey. He is a 1972 graduate of Edwardsville High School.

The prospective bridegroom is employed as a branch manager for Mid-America Investments at its Rosewood Heights office.

Plans are being completed by the newly betrothed couple and their parents for a wedding in the autumn months.

The graduation marked the tenth anniversary of the technical center.

Graduate Debbie Bushong honored

Miss Debbie Bushong was honored at a graduation party last week given by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bushong, 1836 Eremen Ave.

A buffet dinner was served from the patio. Centering the table was a cake decorated to resemble a book with daisies, a graduate's figurine and a miniature diploma on top.

The honoree received many gifts from her relatives and friends.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Bailey and Chris, Greg, Julie and Emilie, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Twoer and Lori Ann and Jenny, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Antovich and Kevin and Tracy, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fabry and Carol Ann and Susie, Mrs. Sylvia Winfield and Mary Beth, Nancy and Bruce, Mrs. Vickie Jacobs and Katie, Lori and Bill, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Ratliff and Kellie, Eddie and Mark.

Mrs. Smithson hosts Jolly 12

A two-course luncheon was served by Mrs. Kathryn Smithson, 2802 E. 27th St., who entertained the Jolly Twelve Club at her home Thursday.

The table was covered with a cloth decorated with red poppies and a rose vase, holding a single red rose, and red tapers created the centerpiece.

Mrs. Pauline Stephens was honored on her birthday and the remainder of the afternoon was spent playing cards.

Prize winners were Mrs. Mildred Robertson, first; Mrs. Emma Steinberg, second; Mrs. Mable Lehne, third; Mrs. Stephens, fourth; and Mrs. Penny Quisley, special award. Mrs. Steinberg will host the club at its next meeting.

Mrs. Kathleen Burns, Mrs. Helen Takmajian, Mrs. Clara Fanning and Monica and Leigh Ann, Mrs. Patti Nelenmeyer, Mrs. Janet Takmajian and Raymond, Diana and Amy, Mr. and Mrs. John Fuhrman and Kristy and Davy, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Powell and Ronnie and Lisa, Gina Delevski, Dee Dee Dittich, Tim Tedesco and the honoree's sisters, Lori and Sheri Bushong, her paternal grandmother, Mrs. Dorothy Gavviner and her maternal grandfather Russell Bailey.

JOHN ESSINGTONS NAME

1ST CHILD DANIEL JOHN, Mr. and Mrs. John G. Essington, 2829 Madison Ave., became the parents of their first child, a son, born May 30 at St. Mary's Medical Center in Richmond Heights (Clayton). The infant weighed eight pounds, 10 ounces, and has been named Daniel John.

The mother will be remembered as the former Miss Laura Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Essington of Belhato are the paternal grandparents and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Smith of Granite City are the maternal grandparents.

FIRST CHILD BORN TO MR. MRS. GARY WALTHERS

Birth of a son, their first child, has been announced by Mr. and Mrs. Gary Walther of New Memphis, Ill. Mrs. Walther is the former Brenda Fox of Granite City. The baby was born June 7 at 10 p.m. at St. Joseph Hospital at Breese, Ill. He weighed nine pounds and two ounces and has been named Gary James. The new arrival is the great-grandson of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Fox, 2647 State St., Granite City.

NURSE AIDES lead the procession at graduation ceremonies of the Venice-Lincoln Technical Center last week in the Venice Recreation Center. More than 100 persons were in the largest class ever to graduate from the center in its ten-year history. On hand for the ceremonies were Robert Vickers, superintendent of schools; his predecessor John O. Pier; Ray Casey, Regional Adult Education representative of District Five of the Illinois Office of Education, and the center's director, Duane Rankin.

Retirees enjoy holiday at camp

Members of the American Association of Retired Persons, Granite City Chapter 1340, returned home last week after a three-day holiday at the Touch of Nature Camp on Little Grassy Lake, near Carbondale.

The camp site is designed and maintained for handicapped children, but senior citizens are allowed to use the facilities before and after the children's program in the summer months.

The local seniors enjoyed hayrides, horseback riding, hiking, playing horse shoes and trips on a pontoon boat. Cards and other games were played in the evening hours in the camp's recreation hall and, on the final evening, the men of the party made ice cream, it was reported.

During the holiday trip, Mrs. Catherine Conreux of Granite City suffered a hand fracture in a fall and returned to St. Elizabeth Hospital for treatment. She is now doing well, chapter members advised.

Dwayne Murphy of Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, which handles programs at the camp, showed slides of activities the previous year. He offered to send the slides to the local chapter for other members to see.

Mrs. Helen Bertacchi, who has served as chairman for the early summer holiday trip for the past several years, will relinquish her voluntary job to

Mrs. Helen Bergfield next year, it was announced.

Attending the Touch of Nature Camp from here were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur (Marie) Bertacchi, Mr. and Mrs. Matt (Sue) Blattner, Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland (Pauline) Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver (Verna) DeGure, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell (Vina) Law, Helen Bertacchi, Helen Bergfield, Evelyn Blattner, Alene Breyer, Dorothy Bridick, Catherine Conreux, Eva Hansel, Mary Brudick, Elma Hoover, Irene Kadane, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur (Helen) Pierce, Lena Wood, Dorothy Sardyga and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur (Alvina) Rankin.

Business Women to hear SIU educator

Professor Susan Smith of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will be guest speaker at the June 21 dinner meeting of the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club.

The 6:30 p.m. event will take place at Granite City Moose Lodge 272, 19th and Benton streets.

Reservations currently are being accepted for the dinner, which is open to all working women in the Quad-City area. Mrs. Lois Wetton, new president of the BPW Club, advised.

Those wishing to attend the buffet-style meal and program are invited to call Rosalie Stern, at 452-2777, or LaVelle Stephens, at 876-5684, for a reservation. Carolyn Frye, program chairman, said Prof. Smith will speak on the subject, "Assertiveness for the Working Woman."

The guest speaker is an instructor of sociology at SIUE. She also is a psycho-therapist and a consultant in the Small Business Management field.

Mrs. Wetton said the June dinner meeting will launch the club's new year and serve to introduce the National BPW's 1978-79 theme — "Threshold to New Horizons." Program planning for the year is under the supervision of Rosalie Stern, first vice-president.

Infant Mark Ratliff christened

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ratliff, 2144 Waterman Ave., entertained at their home last week with a dinner party in honor of the baptism of their son, Mark Christopher.

The infant was christened by the Rev. Henry Schmidt at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church. Guests attending the dinner party included the infant's godparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Burns, Sister Rosella,

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jacobs and son, William, and daughters, Kabe and Laurie, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Bellur, Mr. and Mrs. Max Pusak, Mrs. Helen Takmajian, Mrs. Wilma Grote, Mrs. Emma Jakich, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Jakich, Mike Jakich and the honoree's sister, Kellie, and brother, Eddie.

SILVER ANNIVERSARY. Mr. and Mrs. Tom York Jr., 1226 Madison Ave., Madison, who are celebrating their 25th wedding anniversary. They are the parents of four daughters and have four grandchildren.

Tom Yorks observe 25th

Mr. and Mrs. Tom York Jr., 1226 Madison Ave., Madison, observed the 25th anniversary of their marriage at a party and reception given by their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Parnley, 2500 Delmar Ave.

The couple was married May 16, 1953 by Judge Conway. Mrs. York is the former Connie Lane of Collinsville.

York is a pipefitter and a lifelong resident of Madison. His wife is a member of the Ladies Democrat Club of Madison, Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce and served as Cancer Crusade co-chairman.

The honored couple has four daughters, Mrs. Robert (Sandra) Parnley, Mrs. Russell (Debra) Robinson, Miss Pat York and Miss Rhonda York. They also have four grandchildren.

In addition to their sons-in-law, also attending the party were Tommy Parnley, Shannon O'Hara, Crystal, Michelle and Scarlett Ruby Starr, Patricia Ann York, Mary Narver, Norma Martinez, Beverly Nolen, Mrs. Mag Rogers and Timmy. Mrs. Tom York and Bridgette and Ronnie.

Mrs. Ruth Kowalski, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Flor, Mr. and Mrs. James Wallace, Mrs. Donna Ryan, Jimmy Kostoff Jr., Mrs. Victoria Kostoff, Jo Ann Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Byrd and Ricky and Dana, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Skokie, Mr. and Mrs. George Midsky, Kathy Polette, Mrs. Rose Marie Ezell.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bailey and son, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Rogers and children, Peter Skundrich, Mrs. Jo Ann Coleman and David, Mrs. Pat Schubert and Lori, Mrs. Donna York and Robin and Christy, Mr. and Mrs. Randy Miller and Bobbie, Robert Pencher and Mr. and Mrs. David Roulard.

Honored at graduation party

Kirk Allen Arbogast, formerly of Granite City now living in Trenton, Ill., was a graduate of the Highland High School last week and was honored at a party given for him by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Arbogast, and his brother, Chris.

Refreshments were served with a cake centering the table decorated with a diploma and cap, after which all retired to the lawn which was decorated with tables on which there were vases of daisies. The setting was surrounded with white daisies and colored lanterns. Music was furnished by a trio, in which Kirk has the lead voice.

Those attending from out-of-town were Mr. and Mrs. Arnold

Arbogast and Mrs. Maude Robertson, grandparents of the honoree, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Arbogast and son John Dustin and Mrs. Marie Gerbig, all of Granite City; Mr. and Mrs. David Mullenix and sons, Matt and Andrew of Staunton, Ill.; Mrs. George Becker and daughters, Kimberly, Nicole and Kristin of Edwardsville, Diania Anderson of Collinsville, and Mrs. E. Mullenix of Queen City, Mo.

He plans to attend Illinois State University at Normal, where his sister, Laura, will be in her third year.

Third birthday for David Cruse

David Cruse Jr., celebrated his third birthday last week with a party given by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Cruse, at their home, 2807 Dogwood Drive.

A "cookie monster" cake decorated the buffet serving table and a luncheon was served on the patio to family members and other guests.

Attending were the honoree's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Kukarola and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Cruse; his great-grandmothers, Mrs. Zula Cruse and Mrs. Agnes Roderick; and his sister, Dannelle Cruse, 7 months.

Guests also included Mr. and Mrs. John Aleman Jr. and John and James, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Rosenberg and Jeffery and Ann, Carl Kukarola, Jim Kukarola, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Cruse and Stephanie, Tracy and Tom, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. Von Dee Cruse, Mrs. Deborah Ditch and Jennifer, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Kalk and David, Mr. and Mrs. Regis Hencjler and Matthew Abramovic, all of St. Louis County.

Two parties for Julie Simon, 6

Julie Lynn Simon celebrated her sixth birthday last week with a children's party at McDonald's Restaurant and a family event later the same day at her home, 3208 Davis Ave. Sundaes and sodas were served to the youngsters and games were played, with prizes won by Addie Lenzi and Beth O'Master. A Ronald McDonald decorated cake was served after the honoree opened her gifts.

Children present were Gina and Addie Lenzi, Lynette and Jennifer Wheeler, Beth O'Master, Stephanie Cook, Kim Cuppett, Amy Warren, Susan Becherer, Tricia Thouvenot, Carrie Palovich, the honoree's sister, Jennifer, her mother, Mrs. Don (Karen) Simon and Mrs. Helen McKinney.

At the evening party a china ballerina figurine centered the birthday cake which revolved on a musical stand. Guests were the honoree's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John McKinney and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Simon, her sister, Jennifer, and Mr. and Mrs. Ken Simon and Keith, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Simon and Scott and Corey and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Davis.

State emphasis on fair hiring

Governor James R. Thompson last week said steps are being taken to improve the state's record of hiring women and minority group members. In a Springfield address to the Illinois Equal Employment Opportunity Office public policy symposium, he said the state should insure minority hiring both as an employer and as an enforcer.

"For example," Thompson said, "forty percent of all new state troopers are either women or members of a minority group."

Graville re-elected Amvets 204 commander

Vasil C. Graville, 819 Madison Ave., Madison, was re-elected Thursday night as commander of Amvets Post 204 in Madison.

Other officers elected were: David McClelland, first vice-commander; Robert Herman, second vice-commander; Lee McMullen, third vice-commander; John Kula, finance officer; William Vavra, adjutant; Joe Papa, public relations; Andrew Frytoko, chaplain; Nick Vasiloff, legislative chairman; William Papa, provost marshal; Curt Simpson, membership director; Frank Schenoff Jr., service officer; John Kozak, insurance director; and John Graville, historian.

A discussion was held on the Amvets State Golf Tournament scheduled July 15 and 16 at the Indian Hills golf course in Mount Vernon, Ill. Members were told they must sign up to play by July 1.

Curt Simpson, membership chairman, reported that all members of Post 204 have dues paid up.

The group was reminded of the Madison Ethnic Festival Aug. 25, 26 and 27 at the Madison Memorial Center, Seventh and Lee streets, Madison.

DRIVER INJURED

Edward Prazma, 20, of 3017 Willow Ave., was injured in a two-car collision at 1:40 p.m. Saturday at 27th Street and Delmar Ave. Police reported that a car driven by Prazma and one driven by Robert S. Brown of Wittington, Ill. collided at the intersection.

VASIL GRAVILLE

Ill. formulary ready to mail

Illinois Public Health Director Dr. Paul Q. Peterson last week announced that the Illinois Formulary, a list of prescription drug products which can be used in the new drug substitution program, has been printed and will be mailed to every registered physician, pharmacist and pharmacy in Illinois.

"The program will lower the cost of drugs to the public by allowing, after July 1, the substitution of less expensive generic-name drug products for the prescribed item," Dr. Peterson said.

Mrs. Lewallen dies at 67

Mrs. Clara B. Lewallen, 67, of 135 Lennox Ave., Mitchell, Ill., for five years, died at 10:11 a.m. Sunday at Barnes Hospital, St. Louis.

Born in Nobel, Ill., she resided in Granite City for five years.

Mrs. Lewallen was a retired employee of the Midwest Curtin Co., in St. Louis.

Her husband, Orville Lewallen, died in August 1954. Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. William (Betty) Smart and Mrs. Eugene (Frances) Smart, both of Granite City; seven grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

UNIDENTIFIED FLYING OBJECTS

As has been discussed in previous columns, the universe is mostly empty space, and distances between stars are enormous. Light, which moves faster than anything else in the universe and whose speed cannot be exceeded, takes more than four years, traveling at 300,000 km (186,000 miles) per second, to reach the solar system from the next closest star. Light from the next closest galaxy that we can see from Illinois requires two million years to reach us.

These facts — the essential emptiness of space, the enormous distances between stars and galaxies, and light as the limiting speed of the universe — all provide strong arguments against the idea that the Earth is being visited by intelligent creatures from planets orbiting stars beyond the Sun. (We are reasonably certain that intelligent life exists in our solar system only on the planet Earth. The next best candidate for life of any kind in the solar system is Mars. The two Viking space probes on the surface of Mars are designed to detect life, to date they have found nothing.)

It seems highly unlikely that intelligent life elsewhere in our galaxy or beyond would single out our star, the Sun, from the 100 billion or so stars in the Milky Way to search for life on one of the Sun's planets. The problem is one of finding planets in the first place. Even with our sophisticated and sensitive telescopes and other instruments, we have no direct evidence of planets orbiting stars beyond our own solar system — they are simply too far away. The chances of the Earth being found are equally remote.

No mass, such as a spaceship, can travel at the speed of light; only light can do that. Thus, if life on our planet were

GOP ladies — they're ahead in Illinois politics

SPRINGFIELD — Illinois women interested in politics have more opportunity to participate in the Republican Party than in the Democratic Party.

Five women were elected to head the county central committees in the Republican Party. No woman was elected to a party post in the Democratic Party.

The only woman on a state central committee is a Republican.

Republican women outnumber their Democratic counterparts in the General Assembly.

The last woman elected to state office was a Republican and the only female candidate on the state ballot this year is a Republican.

The statistics might surprise some people because of the past fights in the Democratic Party concerning quota systems and affirmative action.

Although Illinois lags behind other states in electing women to office, it's clear in Illinois that women in the GOP have made more progress than those in the Democratic Party.

County chairmen, for example, are considered responsible for getting out the vote on election day and performing other routine tasks necessary to a successful political operation.

The only woman to serve in that capacity in the Democratic Party was defeated in a bid for re-election.

The five Republicans elected last month were: Diane Duff of Greenville, likely explanations for the many phenomena that are observed in the sky. Finally, we should note that life, including intelligent life (however we may define it), is undoubtedly a common condition throughout the universe. (See this column for Aug. 14, 1977, for a detailed discussion of the question.) Simply stated, conditions in the universe impose limits on making physical contact between intelligent life forms. But whether we are alone in the universe or whether there is life elsewhere, either circumstance is both frightening and awe-inspiring.

Bond County: Karen Duffey of Sycamore, DeKalb County: Billie Cardou of Canton, Fulton County: Mary Jane Jones of Mason City, Mason County: and Emma Jayne Mason of Athens, Menard County.

The only woman to serve on the Democratic State Central Committee also was defeated.

A female incumbent on the GOP State Central Committee was defeated, too, but another woman was elected. She is Margaret Hart of Lake Forest.

Of the 21 women in the State Legislature, 12 are Republicans.

In the Senate, the women are Democrats. They are Dawn Clark Netsch of Chicago, Earlean Collins of Oak Park and Vivian Hickey of Rockford.

The Republicans are: Jane Barnes of Oak Lawn, Susan Catania of Chicago, Giddy Dyer of Hinsdale, Adeline Geokaris of Zion, Betty Hoxey of Ottawa, Mary Lou Kent of Quincy, Virginia MacDonald of Arlington Heights, Lynn Martin of Rockford, Penny Pullen of Park Ridge, Betty Lou Reed of Deerfield, Celeste Shah of Belleville and Mary Lou Summer of Dunlap.

The Democrats are: Peg Brasin of Ottawa, Eugenia Chapman of Arlington Heights, Peggy Smith Martin of Chicago, Helen Satterthwaite of Urbana, Anne Willer of Hillside and Wyvetter Young of East St. Louis.

The last woman elected to state office was Faye Searcy. The late Mrs. Searcy was elected clerk of the Supreme Court in 1962.

The only woman nominated for state office this year is Sharon Sharp, Republican candidate for secretary of state.

HITS STORE WINDOW

Gregory Jackson, 2248 Bern Ave., was charged with driving while intoxicated after his auto struck the front plate glass window at Lord Nelson's Clothing Store, 1222 West Central St., at 2:35 a.m. Friday. Police alleged Jackson refused to take a breath test. He told police his brakes failed. Two passengers in his car were released without charges being filed against them.

A new type of saving instrument has been made available to the public. The new saving instrument, called the MONEY MARKET CERTIFICATE, has some unique features.

The FDIC in consultation with the Treasury Department will allow the MONEY MARKET CERTIFICATES to be sold at GRANITE CITY TRUST at interest rates which are generally higher than any other type of savings and for periods that are generally shorter.

Each week the U.S. Treasury offers Treasury Bills for auction. The average interest rate established at the auction will be the interest paid to private individuals for the new MONEY MARKET CERTIFICATES.

The interest rate will, of course, vary each week, but the history has been that rates have been higher than comparable savings plans. For example, last week's rate was 7.00% for a six months MONEY MARKET CERTIFICATE. The comparable Certificate of Deposit, yielding a similar rate, would require a minimum four to six year commitment. Conversely, a six months Certificate of Deposit would only pay 5 1/4% interest.

MONEY MARKET CERTIFICATES are sold in minimum $10,000.00 denominations, and are non-negotiable.

GRANITE CITY TRUST will offer new instruments, based on the established weekly rate of interest. As a service to the public, GRANITE CITY TRUST will publish the appropriate rate in this paper each week.

With Missouri now casting its eyes far to the west, Illinois must continue its 'lifeline' to a new airport

Sometimes in the busy closing weeks of an Illinois General Assembly session, worthy bills fall by the wayside or are drastically altered. The Senate and its Appropriations Committee should not allow this to happen to the House-approved $323,000 St. Louis Metropolitan Area Airport Authority appropriation of 1978-79.

Sen. Sam Vadala of this district is the sponsor of the legislation and Sen. Kenneth Hall of East St. Louis serves on the Appropriations No. 1 panel that is considering the bill.

Governor James R. Thompson supports the legislation and we trust that he will seek to persuade hesitant Republican senators.

The Democratic gubernatorial nominee, Comptroller Michael Bakalis, has been influential with members this spring and could win friends by encouraging Chicago area senators to vote favorably.

It will be recalled that the Airport Resources Act was created to develop a new metropolitan area airport where needed and selected as the most ideal site a spacious area near Columbia and Waterloo, Ill.

A former St. Louis mayor backed the Illinois plan but the City of St. Louis, owner of Lambert Airport, now is seeking to continue airline operations at Lambert indefinitely. The Missouri-St. Louis Authority, later created by the Missouri legislature to try to develop the Columbia-Waterloo, is being provided lavish, funding by that state.

The varying delays used to block the bill, with studies, alterations and tactics devised and abandoned at will, apparently are not over. The "Lambert forever" concept now in vogue — despite the fact that the site is hemmed-in by residential, commercial-industrial development — may soon be scrubbed in favor of a new Missouri airport that would be situated about 50 miles to the west.

Analysis of Missouri-St. Louis budgeting indicates $1,700,000 is being provided for land acquisition, the Illinois Transportation Department has determined. This not only overshadows the amount of money being discussed this week at Springfield, but also underscores the changing nature of the Missouri strategy, sleight-of-hand maneuvering whose actual goals have been kept hidden.

Because the issue may seem a distant Missouri airport or a close-to-St. Louis Illinois landing site, it would be tragic if Illinois legislators so handicapped the local authority that it could no longer keep alive and updated the many documents associated with its application to the Federal Aviation Administration.

Adequate funding for the SLMAAA is essential for Illinoisans, Missourians and people of a wide region of the Midwest.

Gov. Thompson, Comptroller Bakalis, Senators Hall and Vadala and all other Illinois senators have a clear duty to make sure that the Airport Authority's appropriation is adopted now and without further cuts.

Voice for all on conservation issues

To the Editor:

Concerned citizens have a chance to discuss the future of our county's soil, water and related resources.

The 1977 Soil and Water Conservation Act allows us to promote a more responsive soil and water conservation program. This is because local people are able to express their viewpoints about their resources.

The act is being administered in Illinois by the U.S. Department of Agriculture Soil Conservation Service with the full cooperation of the Bureau of Soil and Water Conservation, Illinois Department of Agriculture, Association of Illinois Soil and Water Conservation Districts, and local soil and water conservation districts.

The new law will give soil and water conservation districts their best chance to find out local conservation interests.

Many districts are conducting open meetings and workshops about the act.

To develop a truly representative conservation program, SCS and districts must have the participation of concerned individuals as well as local governments, farm and environmental organizations and other interested groups.

Soil and water conservation programs in Madison County have a long and successful history of being locally initiated, locally planned and locally managed through the soil and water conservation districts.

The Soil and Water Resources Conservation Act of 1977 broadens this traditional approach to include even wider public involvement. All citizens now will have a voice in planning decisions that will guide future local and national conservation programs.

We are now making plans for meetings to be held in Madison County for the purpose of finding out the problems, trends and concerns of the people.

MELVIN KOEHLZ, Chairman, Madison County Soil and Water Conservation District

Busiest year for income tax staffs

To the Editor:

I would like to thank you and members of your staff for the generous support you have given the Internal Revenue Service by providing the public with important federal tax information, not only during this year's income tax filing period but throughout the past years.

The filing period just ended was our busiest yet.

Our tax assistants personally helped 104,000 individuals who visited our offices seeking assistance in preparing their income tax returns.

They also furnished prompt answers to more than 234,000 people who used the toll-free telephone facilities that IRS provides.

Each year, it becomes more and more obvious to me that the success of our public assistance program depends upon continuing support from the news media.

I am very appreciative of the excellent relationship that exists between the IRS and the media, and it is my sincere wish that it will continue in the years to come.

Kenneth L. McKean is the Alton office manager, and Fred Moser and Vincent W. Kloeckner head the East St. Louis office.

IRAS LOEB, District Director U.S. Department of the Treasury

Striped bass to be stocked in 2 lakes

The fish don't care, but 80,000 or so striped bass fingerlings waiting to be stocked in two Illinois lakes this summer are part of a future boom in regional sport fishing, fisheries experts expect to pull trophy-minded fishermen from all over the Midwest.

In fact, a fisheries expert at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale says stocking of Lake and Lake Springfield with the feisty gamefish will open grow to lengths of 30 to 35 inches and weigh as much as 25 pounds — will mark the beginning of a "trophy-quality" fishery in Illinois.

"Trying into a good striped bass is on a par with the salmon fishing," says William Lewis, director of SIUC's Cooperative Fisheries Research Laboratory.

"When our Downstate lakes start producing 10 and 20-pound bass, people will come in from all over."

"It's a big gamefish for warm waters," Lewis said. "People who catch one striped bass will be happy all week."

Right now, the 80,000 striped bass fingerlings are being their final growth in banks of fiberglass tanks at the fisheries research unit near Grafton, Ill.

When they've grown to about two inches long, probably by early July, fisheries researchers will turn them over to the Illinois Department of Conservation for release at Rend Lake, near Joliet, and Lake Springfield, south of the state capital.

Lake is the second batch of striped bass stockings in Illinois. In 1976, about 23,000 fingerlings were set loose in Rend Lake and Crab Orchard Lake.

DISMISS DRUG CHARGES
Three drug charges against Steven E. Simpson, 30, of 2943 Oregon St., have been dismissed in Madison County Circuit Court on motions by the prosecution. Simpson was among nine persons arrested in March after an undercover drug investigation by the Metropolitan Enforcement Group of Southern Illinois (MEG). Simpson had included one count of delivery of a controlled substance and two counts of delivery of cannabis.

Medical technology student graduates

Jeanette Paterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Paterson, 2019 Wilson Ave., Granite City, was one of eight students to receive a certificate from the St. Mary Hospital School of Medical Technology.

In addition to graduation exercises Saturday at the hospital.

Graduation marks the completion of a 12-month period of classes and clinical experience in the hospital laboratory and three or four years' college training in medical technology.

Students completing the program become eligible to take the national examination of the Board of Registry of Medical Technology, which leads to registration by the American Society of Clinical Pathologists.

In addition to graduation from the St. Mary Hospital School of Medical Technology, Miss Paterson received a bachelor of science degree in medical technology in May 1978 from Western Illinois University.

She will be employed by Abraham Lincoln Memorial Hospital, Lincoln, Ill.

Hospital projects will complete long-term plan

St. Elizabeth Hospital's realization of its long-range goal as a medical-surgical community hospital will be reached with the completion of its current renovation and expansion program.

Present projects include an ambulatory services building and a power plant as well as a psychiatric facility. Executive Vice President, Ted Edlerman, noted today.

Construction of a 50-bed psychiatric building, which will house patients in a separate specialized structure, is in keeping with the local hospital's pledge of comprehensive health care as needed in the Quad Cities, he commented.

The unit is part of an $18 million project begun in January 1977 after an extensive two-year study by a health care consulting firm, CHI Systems. In an unrelated report given in August 1977 to the Planned Development Committee of Greater St. Louis Health Systems Agency, a deficiency in the availability of psychiatric beds in Madison County was indicated.

The 50-bed building is in line with the long-term plan of the Health Systems Agency.

Regarding non-psychiatric hospital bed space, the HSA says there is an adequate number at present in Madison County.

The new building will enable St. Elizabeth Hospital to continue serving about the same number of psychiatric patients as in the past, but will locate them in a separate structure.

Trailriders point show at club arena Saturday

The Trailriders Saddle Club of Granite City will hold a "Point Show" Saturday, June 17, starting at 6:30 p.m. at the riding club's arena on Chouteau Slough Road at Rock Road, near the Chain of Rocks Canal levee.

The show is the first of several Saturday night events on this season's agenda. Kathy Bargiel, Trailriders' secretary, advised.

Five riders captured double honors in last week's "Fun Show" at the Trailriders arena. Also a winner was Danny Bowman, riding Ruby, with Scott Mason as his pickup man in the new "rescue race" event, a novelty class.

Taking first place in two events were:

News notes

IC Industries, parent firm of the Illinois Central Gulf Railroad, is expected to acquire Sher, Inc., by offering $54 per share to stockholders.

Residential touch-tone telephone charges far exceed the cost in Illinois, the Legal Assistance Foundation alleged Wednesday.

Gov. James R. Thompson said Saturday he will introduce legislation today to prevent police raids on broadcasting or newspaper offices.

Another effort to ratify the Equal Rights Amendment is expected in the Illinois legislature.

It is being alleged that Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott invoked the Fifth Amendment against self-incrimination and declined to testify during an appearance May 24 before a federal grand jury studying use of Scott campaign funds. He is said to have done so after being asked to testify under the due process clause was barred.

Leopold Sedar Senghor

By Prof. Theresa R. Love

(Dr. Theresa R. Love, associate professor in the department of English language and literature of the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville School of Humanities, became acquainted with the poet-president, Leopold Sedar Senghor of Senegal while she was a visiting professor at the University of Liberia through a U.S. State Department exchange program in 1959. President Senghor received the honorary degree of Doctor of Humane Letters at the SIUE Commencement, June 9.)

Leopold Sedar Senghor is one of the few modern statesmen who expresses his political and philosophical views in poetry as well as in prose. He is his continent's chief poet. As such, he is the leader who can best tell of the beauty of its red soil, of the "blue kindness" of its skies, and of the beauty of women whose native pearls shine "on the night" of their skin. He is president of Senegal in West Africa. He loves Africa, its traditions and its values. He is concerned with its well-being.

Senghor remains close to his countrymen and continues to practice certain African virtues. Often, he holds informal meetings with his colleagues. They report that he radiates joy and happiness. But he does not forget the masses. When he is in Senegal, he returns each weekend to his home in his native village. There, he offers "popenique" — hospitality and friendship — to all who come, beggar or prosperous farmer. "Popenique" is considered a necessary virtue in Africa.

In his country, he is known as a humanitarian. When a group of leftist students rebelled against him, he offered them educational scholarships, not revenge. He believes that young people are the instruments of a country's growth. Besides his hospitality and humanitarianism, he is known also for "Kersha" (self-control) and "Mun" (patience). Perhaps for these reasons, 99.5 percent of the country's voters endorsed a constitution that gave him virtually unlimited power over Senegal's 3,100,000 citizens.

Senghor also possesses what the Senegalese call "long vision." This was demonstrated when former French President Charles DeGaulle offered Senegal a choice between complete independence or partnership in a French commonwealth. Senghor had been a French colony. Senghor believes that Senegal would be foolish to refuse French aid, since France had used the country's national resources to become a world power.

Senghor also believes that the most effective political groups are the large ones that incorporate many different identities and values. Certainly, he feared that new nations without technological experience could not stand independently in the world economy. He urged the new nations to join in the proposed union with France, although often, in his speeches, he says: "Lord, God, forgive white Europe."

Senghor had other reasons why Senegal should join the federation. Thousands of Africans from French colonies had died fighting for France's freedom during World War II. He felt that their deaths had earned their countrymen a place in the family of nations. In his poem, "In Memoriam," he speaks to the men who died by the Seine: "Oh Dead, protect the roofs of Paris in the Sunday fog! The roofs which guard my dead! That from the perilous safety of my tower, I may descend to the streets! To join my brothers with blue eyes."

Senghor has been influenced by the philosophy of the Jesuit thinker

Teilhard de Chardin, as well as by African beliefs. Although he is a practicing Catholic, he believes in the worship of ancestors and in communication with the dead. The dead, he believes, draw near to him "in the intimate darkness of an afternoon." In a poem called "Prayer to Masks," Senghor greets the masks through which these spirits breathe. He asks the "lion-headed ancestor" who guards his home to "purify the air of eternity" and to protect Africa, that "pitiable princess" who is dying of desperation. His faith in the power of the dead comes from the African belief in the oneness of all things. Death is not the end of being. Bodies die, but the spirits encased in these bodies do not. As a result, believers have unquenched champions at their sides.

At one time, Senghor believed Marxism to be the only solution to the problem of materialism. He has come to believe that Marxism, too, lessens the personal worth and integrity of men. At this point, he adopted Teilhard de Chardin's belief in the inevitable union of all nations. This union, when it comes, will be based on universal love. The dignity of all will be respected. The priest's philosophy is compatible with the African notion of oneness. Together, they gave the answer that Senghor sought.

There are times when the poet-president still mourns the injustices that Africa has suffered. He has written: "Lord, I can still not abandon this last land." Yet, as he says in "Paris in the Snow," his hatred melts like the new snow in the "sun" of God's goodness. Now, he wants Africans to join their "white-handed brothers" to work toward a world community based on mutual love and respect.

State's prison industries are making a comeback

By VINCENT CARROLL
JOLIET — After a decade of being pushed aside in favor of treatment programs and counseling, prison industries are making a comeback.

The most dramatic example in the entire Illinois prison system of the growth of productive and profitable inmate labor is at the Joliet Correction Center.

About $250,000 in federal funds are being used to purchase equipment for a data processing center, a graphic arts studio and a shop for re-conditioning cars.

A mattress and pillow factory are already in operation. According to Rick Street, director of the industries, by the time the three new programs are functioning at peak level the total prison sale of products could exceed $1 million a year.

"That compares with sales in fiscal 1976 of probably no more than $55,000," Street said.

He said the graphic arts center will be the smallest of the new operations. Only 20 employees will be required, 10 of whom already have been trained and divided into three work shifts.

The automobile re-conditioning shop is still a long way from starting.

Street did indicate, however, that the conversion of the old textile factory building into the new shop would begin soon. He was not sure how many men would find jobs at the shop but expected demand to be high.

"We try to run our industries on a basis as similar to the free world as possible. The men are competitively hired, and there are specific career ladders they can follow," Street said.

"If one of our employees is having problems, we'll offer him counseling. If he continues to work ineffectively, he'll be fired, just as he would on the outside."

Street estimated the attrition rate among employees in the mattress factory at about 50 percent. That's not a bad record, he contended, since many of the employees had never held a steady job in their lives before they were sent to prison.

Warden Dennis Wolf hopes that eventually all but a few of the permanent residents at Joliet prison would be either working at paying jobs or enrolled in the prison school. Several hundred of Joliet's 1,300 residents are transients, either about to be released, freed, or en route to another prison.

However, soon all transients will be transferred to the old women's prison on the east side of Collins Street, now being repaired.

"Of course not all the prisoners are going to be able to get involved in some activity. The troublemakers will remain in their cells, as they do now," Wolff said.

Edmund H. Muth, director of correctional manpower industries for Illinois, considers the Joliet prison industrial program a model for the rest of the state.

He listed two main reasons why Joliet was chosen as the home of the new industries. The first, he said, was the prison's proximity to Chicago, where most of the governmental agencies requiring keypunch work exist.

Just as important, he added, was the composition of the Joliet inmate population. "As you know, it was changed in 1976 from a hard-core institution to a place of protective custody for young offenders. They have a lifetime ahead of them, so we felt they could make the most use of the work skills they might learn," he said.

Television film shot at Joliet

JOLIET — Lucy Salenger was excited.

She was watching some of her efforts become a reality. Salenger, Illinois Film Office managing director, spearheaded efforts in getting another movie filmed in Illinois.

The television motion picture "One in a Million: The Ron LeFlore Story" was filmed inside Stateville Penitentiary. Other parts of the movie were filmed in Chicago.

The movie, starring LeVar Burton, covers LeFlore's life from the streets of Detroit, to a state prison and finally to star centerfielder for the Detroit Tigers.

The producer, director and director of photography for the film was from California. The rest of the crew were local technicians, according to Salenger.

She said all the equipment was rented locally, about $5,000. The film has a cast of local talent and 600 local persons work as extras. By the time the filming was completed in Illinois, 700 local people worked in the production.

Producer William Gilmore said the production will spend about $500,000 in Illinois. And, he had nothing but praise for the Illinois Film Office.

"Although the story is set in Michigan, the majority of our filming is in Illinois, because the Illinois Film Office was able to find us our major location, a state penitentiary," he said. "We didn't even call Michigan. We've gotten enormous cooperation here."

New bleachers built for a sports scene for the movie will be donated to the prison, he said.

"We hope to coincide the movie's release with the World Series fever," he said.

Salenger, a former television news reporter, has headed the Illinois Film Office for two years. It's part of the Illinois Department of Business and Economic Development and was created in 1975.

The office's main function is to encourage motion picture and television production in the state, because of the money and jobs it means to Illinois citizens. In the last two years, 13 movies have been filmed in Illinois.

PERSONAL GREETING. Dane Gunderson receives handshake from School Superintendent B. J. Davis during the first annual banquet of the Granite City School District's Independent Reading Program at which 414 students were honored for reading 100 or more books during the school year. Standing at left is Dane's father, Gene Gunderson, a teacher at Prather Junior High School. At right is Don Stucke, president of the Board of Education.

414 awards in GC reading program

More than 900 persons, including 414 students in all grades, attended the first annual Superintendent's Award banquet to recognize students who successfully read and reported on 100 or more books during the past school year.

The banquet and program in which the students were presented certificates for completing the 100-book reading program was held in the cafeteria at Granite City High School South and was said by school officials to be the largest crowd ever served in the school cafeteria.

The program marked the first year of the Granite City Independent Reading Program which was initiated to encourage students to read independently for enjoyment, recreation and to improve their reading skills and concepts learned in the regular reading program, school officials said.

All 16 elementary schools participated in the program and had students who received the Superintendent's Award. The award recipients received a free dinner as well as a pin for their efforts.

Each building principal introduced the students as Superintendent B. J. Davis and Board of Education President Don Stucke presented the students with their awards.

There are approximately 6,300 elementary students in Granite City. They read an average of 27.3 books each, or a grand total of approximately 121,000 books. In addition to these books, many students read books that were not reported for credit. The Granite City Library reported an increase of 1,000 books per week checked out during the past year.

Approximately 450 students earned the Superintendent's Award and 414 were presented with the award at the dinner.

There were 487 adults present, including parents, teachers and guests, for a total of 901 persons.

Invited guests were Board Members Don Stucke, president; George Moore, secretary; Steve Sallich, treasurer; and Dewey Melton, member. Others included Owen Humphrey, curriculum coordinator; Dale Ren, assistant superintendent; Raymond Dragich, assistant regional superintendent; Mrs. Carol Canady and Cheryl Hillner, Granite City Library.

Committee members in charge of the Granite City Independent Program and the dinner were Alisha Bossett, Ruth Lahr, Cindy Mills, Gerry Pointer, Mary Snelson, Marge Mulach, Marsha Gianakos, Mike Loftus, Dan James and Don Kopp, committee chairman.

Bike registration is reducing thefts

"Bicycle registration is reducing the number of bicycle thefts in Granite City and the statistics prove it," Granite City "Officer Friendly" Fred Hoffman said this week in announcing a citywide bicycle registration program set for Saturday, June 24.

"Cooperation by several groups is the key to what we hope will be a successful drive this year to register a large number of bicycles," Hoffman added.

He noted that in 1975, there were 412 bicycles stolen in the city while the number dropped to 272 in 1977, primarily due to registration.

Bicycle owners will be requested to bring one parent's driver's license number to the registration session to have it engraved on the bicycle with a special marking pen.

The Granite City Jaycees have donated 12 electric marking pens this year to supplement those already in use in the Operation Identification program, where residents borrow the pens to engrave license numbers on all large valuables.

Members of Explorer Post 33 (sponsored by the Granite City police) and of the Granite City Breakfast Kiwanis Club will assist at the bicycle registration. Participants will be offered several "rewards" including a coupon from McDonald's Restaurant for a hamburger and French fries, a ticket for a free swim that afternoon at the Wilson Park swimming pool, a free box of popcorn and a free candy bar from the Namsoki Cinema and a ticket for a special matinee at the Cinema. The registration will be from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. June 24 on the Northeast corner of the parking lot of McDonald's Restaurant, 1515 Johnson Road.

3 Illinoisans on Judiciary panel oppose search ruling

By ROBERT ESTILL
Press-Record Washington Bureau
The Supreme Court ruling empowering police to get warrants for unannounced newsroom searches disturbs the three Illinoisans on the House Judiciary Committee.

It is not only the "free press" issue that has sparked their interest in the May 31 decision stemming from a 1971 search of the offices of the Stanford University student newspaper.

The high court's 5 to 3 opinion would authorize searches of any premises — such as the offices of doctors, lawyers, bankers or other holders of confidential information — even though the owners or occupants are believed innocent of criminal acts.

Police would not have to subpoena records, a process subject to being challenged in court by motions to quash the subpoena.

If they can find a judge to issue the warrant, police now can go in unannounced and make the search, as they did at the Stanford Daily in a fruitless quest for photographs they thought might show students assaulting police during a "sit-in."

"It does sound to me like the court has authorized an excessive search," said Rep. Robert McClary of Lake Bluff, ranking Republican of the Judiciary Committee.

"Our constitution refers to 'reasonable searches and seizures'; this seems to be unreasonable and excessive," Rep. Tom Rallsback of Moline, second ranking Republican on the committee, said the ruling opens up anew the whole question of whether there should be legislation setting forth specifically the scope of protection afforded the news media.

"I think it is proper to determine whether there will be a chilling effect that would unduly hamper the performance of the news media..." Rallsback said.

"I am really most worried about whether this could result in 'fishing expeditions' which could result in revealing sources that had been promised confidentiality..."

operations the opportunity to contest the search and possible seizure of its documents, files and other materials.

His bill would only allow unannounced searches based on warrants if the police could demonstrate to the court probable cause that an officer or an employee of the news media has committed or is committing an unlawful act.

And in these instances, the search would be limited to specified areas, and only items that were particularly identified could be seized.

Sen. Charles Percy, R-Ill., also is offering legislation to counter the ruling.

His bill would require law enforcement authorities to obtain a search warrant if there is probable cause to believe that evidence might be destroyed, hidden or removed.

Percy said reporters are not the only persons threatened by the ruling. He asserted that the type of search approved by the court is "potentially subject to tremendous abuse and must be curbed."

The lawmakers' uncertainty of what should be done is understandable; there is no agreement in the news media either.

One fear is that legislation intended to set forth media protection in specifics could have the effect of limiting press freedoms.

Where should the line be drawn?

Does not the press also have responsibilities as citizens?

"I am not sure what the limit should be on excluding representatives of the press from appearances and involvements in connections with press reports of criminal activities," said McClary.

"For the press to report crimes and decline to cooperate would limit the right to control crime in this country."

Pondering out loud about the dangers in trying to legislate specific freedoms for the press, McClary wonders if the news media might be better off to hope for more favorable constitutional interpretations from the high court.

Propose student housing rate hike

The Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees, meeting in Springfield Thursday, heard a proposal for an increase in rental rates for university housing. The matter will be submitted for action at the July meeting.

If approved, the rate increase will go into effect Sept. 1, 1978.

The proposed increase for family units ranges from $12 to $15 per month, depending on the type of unit. For example, families now paying $140 per month for a two-bedroom unfurnished housing unit would pay $152 if the increase goes into effect.

Families paying $150 for a two-bedroom furnished unit would pay $165 to $175.

The proposed rate hike per month for single student housing would range from $4 to $10, also depending on the type of housing. A student living in a two-bedroom, four-person unit would pay $60 instead of $55.

A student in a two-bedroom, two-person unit would pay $120 instead of $110.

Single students residing in a three-bedroom, six-person unit would each pay $48 instead of $45. And those living in a three-bedroom, three-student unit would each pay $96 instead of $90 per month.

Rent of a double two-bedroom, three-student unit would increase from $55 monthly to $60 for each student and from $85 to $90 for each student living in single two-bedroom, three-student accommodations.

University officers said that during the past year, increases in costs of operation, plus improvements in maintenance services for university housing at SIUE, have exceeded the revenue generated from renting the units.

Officers estimate that the 1978-79 fiscal year operating deficit for university housing at the local campus will be approximately $75,000 unless the rental rates are increased as proposed.

The situation is due primarily to inflationary increases, raises in both utility rates and housing personnel costs, and the institution of a program of scheduled maintenance services for the housing units, officers said.

Weapon charge

Joe Henry, 29, of 2128 Lynch Ave., was arrested by Madison County sheriff's deputies last week and was charged with unlawful use of a weapon.

It is alleged Henry and two other young men were shooting a gun on Bischoff Road in Nantux Township and deputies found several spent 20-gauge shells around their auto.

Henry allegedly showed deputies a 20-gauge shotgun with a 16-inch barrel lying in front of the car.

Steamers, river lore, cascades are recalled

By BILL WINTER

Those announcing their goods and services in Barney's Information Guide, 1904 World's Fair Edition, included the Mobile and Ohio Railroad, with its "Bee Line South" dining cars and through sleepers; and the City of Providence and Corwin H. Spencer excursion boats, with a capacity of 5,000 persons on each steamer and regular departures from the foot of Olive Street.

There were the Fred Harvey restaurant and lunch rooms in Union Station; the Missouri District Telegraph Co., with messengers furnished and carriages and cabs provided; the Southern Railway, serving 11 states and reaching "every commercial center."

And who could forget the Henderson route, direct to "old Kentucky" and running frequently during the fair; Topsy history, the magic Indian gold-filled watches costing 10, with cases guaranteed to wear 20 years; and wonderful Squawbon, the magic Indian pain killer.

The booklet relates that the Mississippi River is "inseparably connected with the Louisiana Purchase."

"It was the main factor that led up to the acquisition of the Louisiana Territory by the United States."

Its free navigation, together with the right to unload and sell produce at New Orleans without tax or tribute, was the urgent and ceaseless demand of the hardy pioneers who had settled along its banks and tributaries.

"Had not these rights and privileges come through the peaceful methods of diplomacy, they surely would have been secured by force of arms."

"As early as 1797, an expedition was organized in Kentucky and Tennessee under command of George Rogers Clark, whose avowed purpose was to descend the river in flat boats and capture New Orleans. It required a special proclamation from President Washington to prevent the movement."

"When President Jefferson sent Monroe and Livingston to Paris to negotiate with the French government, they were instructed as a last resort, if everything else failed, to secure a concession for the free navigation of the Mississippi River, with the right of warehousing at New Orleans."

"There was no thought of acquiring or seeking to acquire Louisiana."

"They would eagerly have entered into a convention, securing to the citizens of the United States the free navigation of the Mississippi River and the right of deposit at New Orleans."

"When Napoleon ceded the entire Louisiana Territory to this country for a mere bagatelle of $15,000,000, the cup of hope was filled to overflowing. It was the offer of the western half and the entire mouth of the great river and of an empire along with it."

"The Mississippi was discovered by Penada, who called it Saneto Spirito. Calvez de Vasa paid little attention to it, believing it to be an arm of the sea."

"Then Hernando Desoto, the real discoverer, came upon it 200 miles south of Memphis. He followed it for about 400 miles, but died without completing his achievement, exploring the river to its mouth and claiming it for his sovereign."

"In 1672, Father Marquette and Louis Joliet entered it at the mouth of the Wisconsin River, and descended it to the mouth of the Arkansas."

"For 170 years after the discovery by Penada, the Henderson route, direct to 'old Kentucky' and running frequently during the fair; Topsy history, the magic Indian gold-filled watches costing 10, with cases guaranteed to wear 20 years; and wonderful Squawbon, the magic Indian pain killer."

"In the spring of 1682, LaSalle, coming down the Illinois River, gazed into the Father of Waters, and continued his voyage to the Gulf of Mexico — naming the river Colbert, and the Territory Louisiana and claiming it in the name of Louis XIV, King of France."

"It is hardly possible to estimate the importance and value of this mighty river, with its capacities for good to the population now dwelling in its valley."

"Every navigable stream between the Allegheny and the Rocky Mountains flows into the Great Father of Waters."

"With its tributaries, it represents a navigable waterway of over 14,000 miles, washing the shores of 22 states, covering an area of 1,350,000 square miles and containing a population of about 40,000,000."

The booklet cites this quotation: "The wisdom of all ages is none too great for the world's work."

"It adds, 'The sublimity of this utterance is all the more potent when it is remembered that President McKinley, shortly after he had finished the address of which the above sentence was the keynote, was assassinated while extending his hand in greeting to people from all parts of the earth, at Buffalo."

"The quotation describes the object and scope of exhibitions, of which the St. Louis Fair is the greatest, marking as it does the commemoration of the Louisiana Treaty, the greatest deed of a pen in a commercial sense ever consummated and proving that the pen is indeed mightier than the sword."

"A sublime diplomatic deed, and only exceeded in importance by the signing of the Magna Charta at Runnymede by King John."

"The English barons on Monday, June 15, 1214, were given freedom of church, life and limb, a magnificent concession to an oppressed people."

"Napoleon as first consul of France, on April 30, 1803, signed a treaty of cession, giving to the New World, with a population of less than 6,000,000 people, an empire that today in its great advance of local development, puts to shame the creations of fiction."

"The conquest of space, forests, streams and deserts, and the founding of cities and states in places within this territory, mark an advance unsurpassed in the history of human endeavor."

"This is the reason of the meeting of the nations at St. Louis, and the unprecedented display of the manifold and varied industries, manufactures, inventions and art of the entire world."

"Realizing that the commemoration of the treaty must be the most applauded of all universal exhibitions, and coveting the honor of fully satisfying the public demand, President David R. Francis and his associates have made it possible with $15,000,000, to evolve an exposition costing $50,000,000."

"It will pass into history as an educational factor of inestimable value in the future progress and international relations of the United States and its dependencies."

"The exposition park comprises 1,340 acres on the western edge of St. Louis, and of this space two miles long and one mile wide, 250 acres is covered with architectural creations of amazing size and beauty — 15 vast and towering exhibit places; dozens of accessory service buildings; festival and musical pavilions; the varied architecture of foreign government buildings, and those of the state governments, besides numerous costly concession structures of diversified architecture."

"Clever landscape artists have transferred the exposition grounds into a veritable fairland of architectural and landscape beauty — of forest groves, and novel gardens filled with rare plants, interspersed among other attractive outdoor exhibits from native and imported animals, trains, street cars, and public automobiles."

"Every improvement suggested by past experience in caring for exposition crowds has been adopted, from emergency hospitals to well equipped nurseries for babies and tired children."

"Twelve great exhibit palaces, the smallest covering 4.1 acres, form the nucleus of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition."

"Around these buildings cluster the United States Government building, the State, Foreign and Concessions buildings, the structures in the Pike, Model City street, the Refrigerating Arts building, the Metal Pavilion, the Stock Barn and the Administration group of permanent buildings."

Architecture, advertising of 1904 World's Fair recalled

(Second of two articles)

World's Fair highlights that might have been taken somewhat for granted in 1904 provide a sharp contrast with the world of 1978.

A booklet newly located by Wilson Schwager has given detailed insight into the turn-of-the-century exposition, which spotlighted architectural skills through the construction of large display buildings.

The Hall of Congresses, Education Building and Missouri State Building illustrate the heroic proportions and dimensions of the St. Louis fair's structures. Site of the fair was Forest Park, and its intent was to commemorate the 1803 Louisiana Purchase.

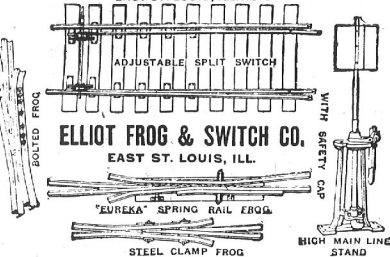

Advertisements in World's Fair publications indicated a preoccupation with trains as the principal means of travel, and a preference for hotels situated near railroad stations.

Piano music was a favorite. And Prohibition had not yet interrupted the brewing and consumption of beer regarded by many as essential in order to comfortably spend the summer of 1904. After all, air-conditioning was not yet in vogue, and throats did get dry, didn't they?

Bitten by the writing bug

The book that comes out of a typewriter is never as good as the book inside a writer's head, according to bestselling author John Jakes.

"After seven months of researching and writing a book, I'm so sick of it I think it's absolute junk," he said in an interview. "I always wish I could have spent another month editing it."

Still, in 1978, Jakes had three books on the best-seller lists, and one of his works — "The Bastard" — has been made into two two-hour movies.

"The Bastard" is the first of seven volumes (already published) on the Kents — a fictional American family. Jakes is currently working on the final volume of the series — "The Americans" — which will bring the Kent family exploits up to 1900.

"When I was in college (Northwestern and DePauw universities) I fantasized about writing success but I never thought I could create anything above a 10th-rate book," he said.

Jakes said he was a frustrated actor when he got bitten by the writing bug. "By the end of my second year at Northwestern (1961), I was starting to sell short stories to pulp magazines. My first was a 1,500-word science-fiction story on a toaster and within a year I had finished my first book — a children's novel on cattle drives after the Civil War."

He transferred to DePauw and graduated with a degree in English composition. Jakes later got a master's degree in literature from Ohio State University.

Meanwhile, he was cranking out more than 200 short stories and 50 books. "The volume of writing came easy, which was important since I was working for a lot of pulp magazines and they paid by the word," said the resident of Dayton, Ohio.

"It wasn't until I was in my mid-30s that I realized it might be better to work over my writing and make it more succinct. I have always been a very slow editor and it takes me quite awhile to cut away the fat." (Still, his volume, "The Lawless," runs 800 pages.)

But through self-discipline, Jakes spent more and more time editing his works and trying to create a product that satisfied him.

He currently spends eight hours a day, five days a week, writing or pouring over material with an editing pencil. "And, I believe in the superstition that a writer should never talk to anyone about his project until it is completed."

Jakes said his Bicentennial series on the Kent family was supposed to be only five books, "but I've crawled my way through history and there's going to be eight."

Jakes said he hopes success has not spoiled him — "I don't even consider myself an artist. I'm a craftsman. And, the stuff coming out of my typewriter is never as good as what I envision in my head."

NOSTALGIA

He wore a long white scarf, a pair of flying goggles set at a jaunty angle on his head, riding breeches and flew a Jenny. Ah yes, the nostalgic days of aviation! But that's all changed now, and some other things have changed with it. Things like the pay, and technical training and the future. By the way, the nostalgia is there too.

ORDINANCE NO. 78-6
AUTHORIZING THE PLACING OF YIELD SIGNS AT THE INTERSECTION OF SECOND STREET AND BROADWAY STREET, FOR THE PURPOSE OF REGULATING NORTH AND SOUTH BOUND TRAFFIC ON BROADWAY STREET, AND PROVIDING PENALTIES
FOR THE VIOLATION THEREOF.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE
CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF VENICE, ILLINOIS:
Section 1: That regulation "Yield" signs be placed at the Southeast corner and Northwest corner of Broadway Avenue at its intersection with Second Street, so as to regulate traffic moving in a northerly and southerly direction on Broadway Avenue, at or near its intersection with Second Street, so they can be clearly seen by traffic moving northerly and southerly on Broadway at or near its intersection with Second Street.

Section 2: That said "Yield" signs shall be placed at said intersection for the purpose of preventing the public generally.
Section 3: That all persons driving or operating any vehicle in northerly or southerly direction on Broadway Avenue, at its intersection with Second Street, shall obey said
"Yield" signs and shall yield the right-of-way over and along Broadway Avenue, at the locations aforesaid, and shall not proceed before said intersection is free and clear of any pedestrian traffic or other vehicular traffic, and it is safe to proceed.

Section 4: That it is hereby declared unlawful for any person, firm or corporation or agent or servant or employee thereof, to drive or operate any vehicle over and across the points specified without yielding the right-of-way and from proceeding until said place is free of all pedestrian traffic or other vehicular traffic.

Section 5: Any person, firm or corporation or servant or agent or employee thereof, who shall violate any of the terms or provisions of this Ordinance, shall, upon conviction, be fined not more than $500.00 for each violation.

Section 6: That this Ordinance shall take effect and be in full force and effect 10 days from and after its passage, approval and the publication as provided by law.

Section 7: That all ordinances, or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith, are hereby repealed in so far as they might conflict with this Ordinance.

PASSED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF VENICE, ILLINOIS, this 6th day of June, A.D. 1978.

APPROVED BY THE MAYOR OF THE CITY OF

THE KROGER CO.

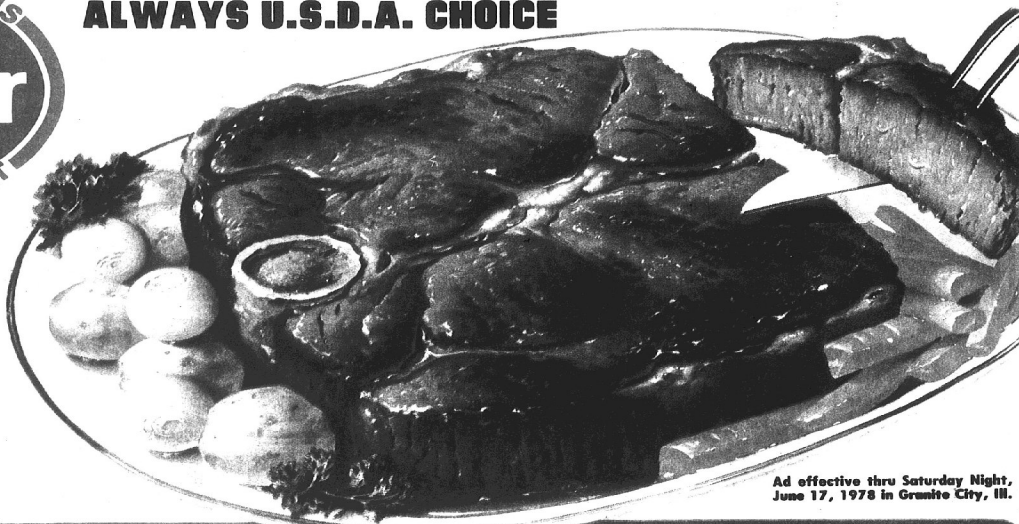

KROGER ROUND STEAKS ARE ALWAYS U.S.D.A. CHOICE

Kroger Round Steaks are the choicest of the USDA Choice, and every one's a center cut with only enough fat for good flavor - just the way your family likes them best. And you'll like Kroger's nice low price, too.

COME AND TRY SOME THIS WEEK

ADVERTISED ITEM POLICY
Each of these advertised items is required to be readily available for sale in each Kroger store, except as specifically noted in this ad. If we do run out of an advertised item, we will offer you your choice of a comparable item, when available, reflecting the same savings or a raincheck which will entitle you to purchase the advertised item at the advertised price within 30 days.

Ad effective thru Saturday Night, June 17, 1978 in Granite City, Ill.

Building

for a finer community . . .
the Press-Record and the people of the Quad-Cities

Press-Record General Manager Paul G. Halbert (right) and Lamar Moore of the Ed Moore general contractors break ground for construction of an addition to the newspaper's building in the 1800 block of Delmar Avenue. Planned for fall 1978 completion, the expansion program will include installation of new offset printing press units.

ANNIVERSARY

Our advertising department is staffed with friendly, experienced salesmen, but more importantly they all are professional layout men with the talent and resources to deliver advertising ideas to meet any need.

Today, Press-Record advertisers know that their advertising will reach 98 of 100 Quad-Cities' homes, bringing the most impact for each dollar invested. Home delivery by reliable, independent news carriers helps guarantee the best coverage of the Quad-Cities for advertisers.

In the near future, exceptionally clear reproduction of pictures and artwork will be provided by our new Goss Urbanite offset press. Full R.O.P. Color will be offered to our advertisers, too!

Advertising is the cornerstone of the Press-Record, and we would like to take this opportunity to express our appreciation to the advertisers who have continuously put their trust in us.

Granite City Press-Record

"Working Toward A Better Tomorrow For Granite City"

75th

We care about the Quad-City area . . .

No visitor is likely to be in the Quad-Cities long before hearing these familiar words: "I saw it in the Press-Record."

For the Press-Record — and its antecedents — is an integral part of this dynamic community that not so long ago, historically speaking, doffed its swaddling clothes and today is reaching for full maturity.

Lone survivor of mergers, sales and failures, the Press-Record has offered its editorial opinion and chronicled the news of the Quad-City area, from Mitchell to Venice and from the Mississippi River to the Bluffs, since the turn of the century.

Though the Press-Record is one of the nation's largest non-daily newspapers, this was not always so.

It was back in 1903, the year of the Great Flood, that Charles W. Judd, an itinerant St. Louis printer, arrived in Granite City.

He borrowed $1,000 from his brother, John B. Judd, father of local realtor Francis Judd, and set up a job printing shop in a small frame building in the 1800 block of State Street.

J. B. Judd was then in business as Judd & Gonterman at 19th and State Streets, now occupied by Hudson Jewelry Store. Judd ran a drug store and Gonterman a jewelry store.

In those days, small newspapers were usually supported by job printing and, when the city's only newspaper — the weekly Granite City Progress — folded up, Judd launched the Granite City Press to fill the void.

He did not have a clear field long, however. In 1904, Ben Ford, an experienced newspaperman, opened a small job printing shop and founded the Granite City Herald. It was a starvation struggle for both.

Abducted to Brother

Then one morning, in 1906, Judd walked into his brother's drug store and announced he was catching the afternoon train to Detroit, where a "wonderful new printing process with color had been developed in conjunction with Paige automobile advertising." Judd intended to get in on the ground floor.

For four hours, until the train pulled out, the druggist was given a quick course in printing and publishing. Then he was on his own, with a drug store and a print shop to run.

He employed a New York printer, John W. "Jack" Cassidy, to help him.

Two years later, the inevitable happened. Ford sold out to his better established competitor, and the newspaper became the Press and Herald.

It was moved from the old Press quarters at 1911 State St. to the Herald building, 1830-32 Delmar Ave., and publication was changed from Wednesdays to Tuesday and Thursdays.

It was during this period of sale and conversion to semi-weekly that the Granite City Record was founded by W. J. Lynch, with the late Elmer McNary as one of his associates. As competition grew hot, a daily was published for a brief time, but it soon withered and died.

Verbal and Fist Fights

Personal journalism was in its heyday; political fights were waged not only in their newspapers by the editors and owners, but also occasionally in the streets if the opponents chanced to meet after a particularly vitriolic article.

Once again came the inevitable. The daily had already disappeared from the scene. The Press and Herald, as well as the Record, despite their lively battles bowed to practical exigencies. The merger took place in 1912.

Lynch became president of the newspaper destined for survival — the Granite City Press-Record — and Cassidy was made editor-manager.

It continued publication from the Delmar building, later occupied by a tavern and pharmacy, but changed publication days from Tuesday-Thursday to Tuesday-Friday.

Five growing but less-eventful years later, in 1917, the Lynch-McNary partnership was converted to a corporation, with Charles A. Uzzell, druggist and former mayor, and John B. Judd as the other stockholders. None of the original incorporators are living.

Ownership Changes

Soon internal policy and management conflicts arose, culminating in McNary buying out the other stockholders and Cassidy leaving in 1919 to found the weekly Granite City Post and job shop, just across the street.

Lewis L. Lindley, who had been getting out a small Socialist paper occasionally, became editor-manager of the Press-Record.

The newspaper war, as well as competition for job printing, was on again and continued unabated through sale of the Press-Record in 1920 by McNary to Lindley and his brother-in-law, the late Harry Faulkner, an attorney.

The two papers engaged in bitter attacks on each other and seldom failed to take opposite sides, regardless of the issue.

The community began to grow after World War I; there were prosperous years in the mid-1920s for most businesses.

As a semi-weekly, the Press-Record fared better than its contemporaries — the Granite City Post and the Madison Republic, a four page weekly.

Still, by 1927, the Press-Record's net paid circulation was under 3,000 in Granite City, Madison, Venice and Nameoki.

Most of its subscribers were in Granite City, dubbed the "Holy City" by Madison officials with whom Editor Lindley carried on a running feud. News was scant, nor was much effort made to get the news.

P-R Assumes Mission

In the spring of 1927, E. E. Campbell, who founded a weekly newspaper in Louisiana, Mo., and owned the Alton Daily Times from 1909 to 1924, bought the Press-Record.

The transaction was not without its problems. Lindley tried to withdraw from the sale and at one stage insisted that the option terms of "cash" be complied with.

When Campbell agreed to produce the $100,000, Lindley had no alternative, especially after his brother-in-law partner, Attorney Faulkner, advised him the sale should be consummated.

Campbell took charge of the Press-Record on April 1, at the same time acquiring the Granite City Post from Cassidy.

Lindley moved to California, where he entered the commercial printing business. Cassidy obtained employment as a proofreader at the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Construction of a new building for the Press-Record at 1815 Delmar Ave. was begun immediately and the move into it was made early in 1928.

For the first time in its history, the Press-Record was in quarters designed for newspaper publication. The paper also converted from an eight-page flatbed press to a 24-page rotary press for greater speed and better printing.

Campbell had visions of a daily newspaper and in terra cotta on the front of the building were these words: "Daily Press-Record."

With the depression of 1929, it continued as a twice-a-week, locally printed, community-dedicated newspaper.

a Press-Record tradition for 75 years its news coverage spread over the entire Tri-Cities.

It was still the day of personal journalism, and editorial opinion was blunt and hard-hitting; some even called it crude.

There were many controversial issues, but none was ever raised for personal gain or self-aggrandizement.

The newspaper was developing character; its voice was beginning to be heard.

This was the atmosphere in which the next editor-owner, C. E. Townsend, started his newspaper career in September 1927 as a cub reporter at $5 a week. The hours were long, but they were all interesting hours — and exciting.

Hectic 1920s and 1930s

The disastrous tornado of September 1927 was an unforgettable experience. And in the years that followed — the Prohibition years — there were scores of gangland shootings and killings.

The Tri-City area seemed to be a dumping ground for victims; twice there were triple slayings.

Gambling and vice, two companion cancers, flourished, as well as slot machines and the numbers racket.

Dog tracks opened and closed, and bullet-proof cars were in vogue among gangsters; banks and casinos were held up; kidnappings made news.

All this and much more was in the Press-Record. These events not only were reported, but the newspaper vigorously editorialized until law and order were restored in the mid-50s.

Once someone put a couple of .45 caliber bullets through the Press-Record office window, and threats were not uncommon.

Unlike earlier years, the clean-up had a spirit of permanence and the energies of people formerly devoted to this were thereupon concentrated on progressive achievements.

The depression of the 1930s, which hit this area hard, was just beginning when William Bergner, a successful and wealthy plumbing firm owner, started a rival weekly newspaper, the Granite City Tribune.

It lasted but a short time and soon relinquished its quarters in the old Bulgarian newspaper plant, 1814 Delmar Ave., now occupied by Tri-City Printing Co.

Once a thriving daily paper with national circulation, the Bulgarian newspaper dwindled to a sick weekly and the owner, Vasil Stephanoff, finally closed his doors in the early 1940s.

Foreign language newspapers had no market among the English-speaking second generation of immigrants.

As the depression deepened, the Press-Record changed its publication days to Monday and Thursday, the same as today.

With better times in the early 1940s, a "shopper" was started by a group of St. Louisans. It was short-lived and was followed by other sporadic entries in the local newspaper field in the late 1940s and in the 1960s.

Years of dedication to the precept that a newspaper is a public trust "with prime responsibility to the reader" began to be recognized.

Where once, in 1928, a Press-Record-conducted "straw vote" to merge four cities failed miserably, in 1940 Granite City and Nameoki almost merged; nine years later the proposal did succeed. This paved the way for Granite City's "fabulous fifties," followed by "soaring sixties" and the present decade.

Years of Steady Growth

For 26 years the Press-Record was under Townsend family ownership, longest span in the history of the newspaper. E. E. Campbell leased the paper to his one-time cub-reporter on July 1, 1944, and on April 1, 1947, the sale was negotiated.

In 1952, the Press-Record divested itself of commercial printing in order to devote full attention to the newspaper.

The Madison Republic, owned by Mrs. Irene Hilt, was bought and the commercial printing of both papers was merged in the Tri-City Printing Co. later sold to the late Chester L. Baker.

From a wartime news staff of two, with three correspondents, the Press-Record grew to eight, with a number of correspondents, including a staff at the state capital, Springfield.

There has been similar growth in the advertising, composing, press and business departments, bringing total employment to more than 30.

Modern Equipment

To complement the Press-Record's veteran professional staff and keep abreast — or better still, ahead — of any demands that might be made on the paper by the public it serves, there has been a continuing program of modernization and expansion.

In the early 1960s, a two-story annex was built to house new offices and provide for further expansion. And still another addition to the building is currently being constructed.

Diligent pursuit of its newspaper responsibilities brought the Press-Record local and state recognition.

Among 700 Illinois daily and weekly newspaper editors, Townsend was named "Illinois Editor of the Year" in 1957 at Chicago.

The selection was based on "outstanding journalistic achievement" and listed a number of community projects, as well as successful opposition to organized gambling and vice, and detailed news coverage of all meetings of public agencies to help foster an active, informed citizenry.

The community projects included school bond issues, hospital building fund drives, United Way, zoning, a new post office building, water fluoridation, efforts to obtain a university, and support of sewage and drainage programs.

The Press-Record and its editor received the Quad-Cities' 1953 Meritorious Civic Achievement Award.

Both placed second in 1956 national judging for the Elijah Parish Lovejoy "Courage in Journalism" award and were accorded recognition by a variety of national publications, including Publishers Auxiliary's designation as "Editor of the Week."

Community Service

Awards for community service have been presented by many Quad-City and national organizations and continue to be received.

The Press-Record was purchased in June 1970 by the Post Corporation, Appleton, Wis., headed by President V. I. Minahan, Executive Vice-President David Nelson and Vice-President John Torinus Sr.

Paul G. Halbert, Press-Record advertising manager, was promoted to general manager and William F. Winter, associate editor, was named editor, in September 1970.

A Noble Man Who Lost His Life Trying to Save Others. What the Different Papers Say About Him.

Little known to Granite City, Sunday morning the sorrow and grief with which the people of this city were struck by the death of Mayor Edwards, who had been in the city for only a few days, was a great one. In the company of several of his friends, he was on his way to the city of St. Louis, where he was to be married to a young woman, who had been in the city for some time. The Mayor was a noble man, who had been in the city for some time, and who had been in the city for some time. SHORT NOTES ON THE FLOOD.

Doings of the Water and It's Refugees. The Railroads Have Again Resumed Traffic. Many Coming Back From the Woods.

With the gradual fall of the river the Eagle and Ball Eagle were also due to be moved. The first of these was moved on Saturday. All trains were delayed and work is being resumed throughout the entire section. In some places it is necessary to cut the levees and railroad tracks to run off the water, standing in the way of the river. The delay in the movement of the trains is a great one, and many of the people are coming back from the woods.
